'Reasonable, Proper' Clauses Cited After 'Super-Road' Arrest

A motorist arrested for speeding Wednesday night on the East Liverpool-Wellsville "super-road" admitted today in Municipal Court that he was driving 65 miles an hour, but asked Judge George L. Brokaw to decide if that is a violation of the Ohio prima facie speed law that allows an auto to be driven at virtually any "reasonable and proper" speed, based on prevailing conditions.

Edward M. Gottlieb, 547 Blackmore St., raised the defense through his counsel, Atty. Ben H. Berman, but Judge Brokaw was unable to hand down a decision because the arresting officer, State Highway Patrolman E. D. Wain, was not present to testify to "prevailing conditions" at the time of the arrest.

Gottlieb was cited at 7:30 p. m. accused of driving 70 miles an hour in a 50-mile zone, according to the patrolman's affidavit. Atty. Berman told the court his client "doesn't know how to plead" because he admitted to driving over 50 miles an hour but the charge evidently was filed under the prima facie law. Then the court entered a not guilty plea for the defendant.

In his testimony, Gottlieb said he was driving toward East Liverpool about 65 miles an hour when another car pulled alongside to pass. He said he slowed to allow the other car to pass, but the patrolman stopped him and said it appeared that "you boys were dragging."

"Under Ohio law, the driver has the right to interpose the defense that because of the condition of the road the speed at which he was driving was not unreasonable," Judge Brokaw commented. "If there was no one else on the road at the time, he could drive at any speed if he wanted to kill himself."

Then the judge continued the case indefinitely to await testimony from the patrolman about the volume of traffic on the road and other conditions at the time of the arrest.

In another traffic case, a Fisher Park motorist was saved the possible revocation of his license when the city dropped one of two charges on which he was cited Tuesday night.

Charges of leaving the scene of an accident were dropped against Leon Ensinger, 57, of Williams Ave., who had pleaded not guilty at arraignment Tuesday. However, he switched his plea to guilty on a charge of driving while under the influence of alcohol and was given the standard penalty — a fine of $300 and costs, 10 days in jail and a 6-month suspension of his operator's permit.

Ensinger was cited after an al-

Ike Will Broadcast Yule Greeting Dec. 23

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower will broadcast Christmas greetings to the nation and the world on Dec. 23.

He will read his greetings at 8:30 p. m. Eastern Standard Time after throwing a switch to light the White House tree and open the annual Christmas Pageant of Peace.

This year's White House tree, a 70-foot silver spruce, is a gift from the State of Maine.

Fund Officials Extend Drive As Goal Lags

With pledges and cash gifts totaling only $44,000, the annual Community Fund drive was extended for at least another 10 days today. The goal is $83,000.

David E. Beatty, campaign chairman, issued this statement:

"While we firmly believe that tri-state residents fully appreciate the value of such community fund agencies as the Boy and Girl Scouts, the YMCA, Salvation Army, Recreation Council and USO, which the fund maintains, the fact remains that we are far from our goal. We are therefore extending our solicitation period for at least another 10 days to give everyone an opportunity to pledge their support in the coming year."

"We realize that in recent months many individuals and businesses have been concerned over economic conditions — perhaps due to strikes, political, or tax situations. However, such tensions have now eased considerably and we are hopeful that 'delayed' pledges to the campaign will be sent in promptly and voluntarily. Drive officials hesitate to recall fund solicitors to wind up this important community project, but it may be necessary."

Beatty pointed out that "other neighboring communities, such as Pittsburgh, Salem, Lisbon, Cleveland, facing even greater economic hardships than this tri-state area, exceeded their goals weeks ago. 'It is our sincere belief that this community, too, will meet its obligation to the six community fund agencies by pledging prompt support.'"

Campaign officials also reminded contributors that gifts in "cash" were not necessary at this time. A "pledge" to pay during the coming year would be sufficient. Pledge "forms" may be obtained from any fund worker or at fund Headquarters in the YMCA Building. Payment of pledges may be extended over the full year monthly, quarterly, or through the payroll deduction plan, as the donor chooses. It may be specified, too, if the gift is to go to certain agencies rather than be divided among all six. In case of emergency or unemployment, payment of any pledge may be deferred.

"Of most importance now," Beatty said, "is that pledges be sent in promptly and voluntarily so that fund workers are spared needless call-backs and that our community meets its civic duty to these six vitally needed agencies."

Infant Killed In Fire, 13 Others Are Injured

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP) — Fire raced up the stairway of a downtown apartment building early today, killing an infant and injuring at least 13 other persons.

Three were hospitalized, one with critical injuries.

The identity of the infant, found in the wreckage, was not determined immediately.

The flames apparently started in trash cans under stairs on the first floor and spread rapidly to the top of the four-story, brick building, fire officials said.

Several of the injured, most of them children, jumped from the building.

Isaac Tucker, 17, suffered a skull fracture when he jumped from a second-floor window.

Hospitalized with burns were Frances Johnson, 15; and Linda Layne, 16.

Crashes Hurt Patrolman, 2 In Lisbon Area

Poland Couple, City Boy Injured In Car Wreck In Mahoning

A State Highway Patrolman and two Lisbon area residents were hospitalized Thursday following two of three district mishaps in which a Poland couple and a 11-month-old city boy were injured.

Patrolman David Sturtz, 22, of the Lisbon post is in "good" condition today at Salem City Hospital with neck and back injuries received when his cruiser was rammed from behind on Route 14 near Unity about 6:20 p. m. last night.

The patrol at Lisbon said Sturtz, driving west on Route 14 about 3 miles west of the Pennsylvania state line, slowed for a vehicle ahead and was struck by a car operated by Frank E. Schooley, 70, of 161 N. Market St., East Palestine.

Joseph Shields, 31, of N. Sumner St., a passenger in Schooley's car, was treated for a laceration of the forehead. The front of Schooley's 1955 sedan and the rear of the cruiser were damaged.

Schooley was cited for failure to stop in the assured clear distance.

Darlene Joseph, 11, and Mrs. Bertha Barnes, 74, both of Lisbon R. D. 4 are in Salem Central Clinic today with injuries suffered when a car in which they were passengers veered off Route 45 north of Salem, overturned and struck a tree.

The State Highway Patrol at Canfield said Mrs. Bertha Joseph, 42, of Lisbon R. D. 4 lost control of the car about 4 miles north of Salem yesterday at 12:25 p. m.

The child is in "fair" condition with a possible skull fracture and severe lacerations of the face. Mrs. Barnes is in "good" condition with abrasions of the face and legs. Mrs. Joseph was released after treatment for bruises.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer D. Logue of Poland and Ralph Roush, 11-month-old, of East Liverpool were treated at Youngstown South Side Hospital later yesterday afternoon for injuries suffered in a wreck near Poland.

The Canfield post said Tony Koczura, 45, of Youngstown was arrested for driving left of center following the collision between his car and Logue's on Spiller Rd. about 2 miles south of Poland.

Auto Skids Into Bank, Injuring Cleveland

A Cleveland driver was hurt and his wife was thrown from their car when the vehicle struck an embankment after skidding on ice on Route 30 near the West Virginia-Pennsylvania state line Wednesday night.

Mrs. Marlene Tindler, 19, was treated at City Hospital for abrasions of both knees and contusions of the back.

Carlton Tindler, 20, received abrasions of the legs and arms and is in "fairly good" condition today at the hospital.

Neither the Rochester nor Carnegie barracks of the Pennsylvania State Police had a report of the accident.

Woman Motorist Cited After West End Crash

A Fisher Park woman was cited on a charge of failure to stop in the assured clear distance after a crash about 9 a. m. today at W. 9th and Chestnut Sts.

Mrs. Dorothy Hales, 26, of N. Surry Rd. was fined $10 and costs

Chester Boy Hunting Is Electrocuted

Victim, 16, Killed By High Powered Line After Shooting Fuse

A 16-year-old Chester youth, a resident of the Hancock County Children's Home, was electrocuted Thanksgiving afternoon when he apparently attempted to reconnect a 7,200-volt wire to a fuse connector which he had knocked down while shooting at birds with a .22-caliber rifle.

William McKinley McDowell Jr., son of Lena Blaylock and William M. McDowell, 110 1st St., died instantly when he grabbed the wire, Hancock County sheriff's deputies said.

The voltage knocked the youth 30 feet to the ground, blew his wrist watch apart and threw his shoes some 40 feet, deputies said. Squire John D. Herron, acting coroner, ruled the death accidental.

There were no witnesses to the tragedy which left only a mark at the base of the middle finger on the youth's left hand, deputies said. The mishap occurred about 4:20 p. m. when the McDowell boy and a 17-year-old companion, Charles Butler, had returned from hunting.

The Butler youth went to the barn to prepare to milk some cows and McDowell began shooting at some birds, deputies said.

They said he apparently hit the fuse connector, knocking it to the ground and cutting off electricity to the home, barn and other equipment, the deputies continued.

They said the youth apparently believed the current was off and fastened the fuse connector to his clothing and climbed the pole to reconnect the wires.

There were two wires into the box, one running to the wire above and another to a wire below the connector, they said. The pole is located about 20 feet from the barn and some 200 yards from the home, deputies said.

McDowell's companion heard a buzzing sound, deputies were told, and ran outside and saw his friend's body. He then ran to the home for help and sheriff's deputies were summoned.

The boy had resided at the children's home for six years along with four brothers and sisters.

He was born April 29, 1943, in Newark, Ohio, but resided in the City's Holiday Passes Quietly

Thanksgiving Ends With Damp Weather

East Liverpool's Thanksgiving observance passed quietly as many residents attended church then held family reunions around the holiday dinner table.

Traffic mishaps were at a minimum and arrests were few.

The holiday dawned with sub-freezing temperatures — a reading of 29 at Dam 8 — and there were snow flurries in the afternoon. The temperature moderated by afternoon, followed by a chilly rain in the evening. The overnight precipitation measured 0.61 inch and another 0.08 fell this morning.

Thursday night a low pressure area moved into Ohio, causing widespread precipitation.

Snow fell in the northern sections while rain was confined to the southern half.

Between the snow and rain area, some light freezing rain was reported.

The low pressure area will move off to the northeast today and rain in the southern half will change to snow flurries. Additional snow accumulation can be expected in the extreme northern portion. Cold and dry weather will prevail Saturday.

Temperatures here will hover around 36 today, then dip to 23 to 27 tonight. Snow flurries were forecast for this afternoon when the mercury starts skidding.

Temperatures this morning ranged from 49 at Chesapeake to 28 at Findlay and Toledo. Columbus had 34. East Liverpool had 36.

Suicide Case, Police Say

Deposed Official Of U.N. Found Dead In New York

NEW YORK (AP)—Povl Bang-Jensen, 50, deposed United Nations official who had been missing since Monday, was found dead Thursday in a Queens park. Police called it "an obvious case of suicide."

The body of Bang-Jensen, dismissed from the U.N. in a controversy over releasing the names of Hungarian refugees, was found by a man walking his dog along the bridge path of Alley Pond Park.

A .25-caliber automatic was in his right hand. He died of a bullet wound in the right side of his head. Police said a note in his possession was identified by handwriting experts as that of the Danish national.

The note, addressed to his American-born wife Helen, begged her forgiveness and suggested funeral arrangements.

Authorities said the body had been in the wooded area more than 24 hours. This left about 48 hours of Bang-Jensen's disappearance unaccounted for. He was not seen alive after leaving his home Monday at Lake Success on Long Island—about two miles from where he was found.

Bang-Jensen, former senior political officer at the U.N., was fired from his $17,000-a-year position in July 1958. He created international furor for refusing to divulge the names of 81 Hungarian refugees who had given secret testimony before the U.N. committee on Hungary.

Bang-Jensen said he had promised to keep the names secret to protect the refugees' families from possible communist reprisals. The sealed list of names was burned on the roof of the U.N. building in the presence of officials.

Bang-Jensen first was suspended from his U.N. post, accused of insubordination, and then discharged by U. N. Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjöld.

At the U.N. the secretariat said there would be "no comment" on the death. However, Hammarskjöld sent a note of condolence to Mrs. Bang-Jensen, who went into seclusion when told of her husband's death.

U.S. Presses Plans For New Shot At Moon

Seeks Reason For Failure Of Biggest Rocket On Thursday

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP)—The United States pushed ahead with plans for another stab at space today while still seeking the reason for the failure of its biggest moon rocket.

In about two weeks an attempt will be made to propel a payload toward the vicinity of the planet Venus and into orbit about the sun. The launching vehicle will be a Thor-Able rocket.

The nation's latest space effort ended in disappointment Thanksgiving Day when a mammoth Atlas-Able rocket fizzled shortly after it was fired in an attempt to put the first satellite into orbit around the moon.

The Atlas-Able, 10 stories high and the most powerful rocket ever assembled by this country, was on its maiden flight. It crashed hundreds of miles out in the Atlantic Ocean after its second stage failed to ignite.

Scientists are studying telemetry data and launch movies to learn the cause.

Focal point of the investigation was a mysterious piece of material that fell from the rocket about 30 seconds after launch. The chunk, which appeared to be on fire, spiraled slowly into the ocean a few miles off shore.

Officials theorized it was part of a protective fiberglass fairing that covered the third stage and the 372-pound satellite. The fairing was to split in two and blow away when the rocket was outside the earth's dense atmosphere.

It is believed the fairing may have broken prematurely, exposing the upper stage and payload to intense friction.

Had it been successful, the American satellite would have whirled into a lunar orbit and transmitted back crude pictures of the moon's surface and other information on its environment.

Representatives of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration conceded that the failure leaves the Soviet Union with a wide lead in the space race.

Dr. John Lindsay, chief of NASA's solar physics program, said that unless the space agency can find extra money somewhere, it probably will not try another moon shot for several months. He said a duplicate payload is available but no Atlas-Able.

Nehru Given Support On Border Issue

NEW DELHI (AP)—The Indian Parliament's lower house overwhelmingly endorsed Prime Minister Nehru's handling of the border crisis with Communist China today after India's veteran leader told it to either support him or replace him.

Only one or two "nos" were heard in the thunderous voice vote which approved Nehru's policies. The Prime Minister declared his policy of seeking a settlement by mediation is not appeasement and bluntly told Parliament he was ready to resign if it wanted another leader.

The packed house rang with cheers as he asserted: "But if, in balance, this house feels this government, this Prime Minister has got to face the challenge, then help him, and stand by him."

Earlier in the debate Defense Minister V. K. Krishna Menon rejected opposition demands that he resign and Nehru took the floor to support his Cabinet officer.

Menon, who has been accused of too close friendship with the Peiping regime and with treating the border trouble too lightly, declared all necessary troops movements consistent with India's resources have been made to defend the country's border with Red China.

The vote for Nehru ended a three-day debate on the border dispute during which some opposition members demanded military measures to drive back the Chinese occupying territory India claims along the northern frontier.

Ike's Trip Termed 'Mission Of Peace'

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. John J. Sparkman (D-Ala.) said today he looks upon President Eisenhower's forthcoming trip abroad as "a dramatic mission of peace."

Sparkman, a member of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, told reporters he thinks much good can come of the trip in offsetting Soviet propaganda that "we are a war-mongering, war-loving, war-making people."

Eisenhower will meet at the White House Monday with congressional leaders of both parties to brief them on his December tour to 11 nations in Europe, Asia and Africa.

The fatality county by The Associated Press began at 6 p. m. Wednesday. By midnight two people had died in Ohio traffic. Thursday, the toll rose at a slow but steady rate.

Warnings of poor driving conditions don't figure to alleviate the situation.

The fatalities:

Wednesday Night

By The Associated Press

Traffic deaths during the extended Thanksgiving holiday continued a slow movement upward today.

Whether the reason was unusual weather or the American tradition of staying close to home on this holiday, the death count was slow.

Snow, sleet, powerful winds and rain raked many sections of the country from 6 p. m. Wednesday onward—when the count of deaths from unusual causes began. The count will end at midnight (local time) Sunday.

The Associated Press made a survey of fatalities during a recent four-day, non-holiday period. Traffic deaths then totaled 433, fires 49 and 100 from miscellaneous causes. This totaled 582.

Last year's four-day Thanksgiving holiday produced 454 deaths involving automobiles, 54 in fires and 118 from miscellaneous causes.

The National Safety Council did not make an advance estimate of traffic deaths over Thanksgiving. This holiday, the NSC maintained, does not compare with other major holidays of the year when drinking and pleasant weather contribute to the death toll.

Volcano Gives All Fireworks In Celebration

HONOLULU (AP) — When Hawaii opened a statehood celebration Thursday Kilauea volcano supplied the fireworks, suddenly coming to life with an eruption of crimson lava.

The fiery fountains shot as high as 1,000 feet—and quit after 16 hours—as abruptly as they started. An eyewitness said "it dropped off to nothing within 20 seconds."

A tourist-attracting eruption in Kilauea Iki crater—Iki means little in Hawaiian—began Nov. 14 and continued for a week. Then it went dormant for four days.

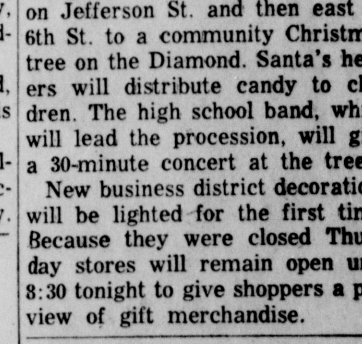

Islanders combined the Thanksgiving holiday with a full-scale commemoration of statehood, the festivities to last four days. Spectators flocked by auto and plane to the new display on 4,090-foot Kilauea on the island of Hawaii.

$22,251 Given To Heart Fund

A total of $22,251.68 in campaign receipts for 1959 was reported by Mrs. Carl F. Brand, executive director, at the semi-annual meeting of the Board of Directors of the Beaver County Heart Association Tuesday night at Beaver.

A grant of $7,500 to Children's Hospital of Pittsburgh for research in heart disease was approved.

Mrs. Brand reported that the Heart, Cancer and Tuberculosis Associations jointly sponsored two scholarships to 1959 community-school health education workshops. Charles W. Smith of Midland, an instructor for the sixth and seventh grades of Fairview School, Ohio Township, was awarded a scholarship to the advanced workshop at the University of Pittsburgh.

Some 58 patients were reported referred to the heart clinic since it was established in 1957. Approval was given to set up heart forums throughout the county.

The board approved a one-year lease for headquarters in the Beaver County Electrical Workers Welfare Corp. building at Beaver.

Special Election Set

By Glenmoor Firemen

Plans for a special election were adopted by Glenmoor volunteer firemen at a meeting held Thursday night to discuss the settlement of a dispute concerning recently elected officers.

A special election will be held at a date to be announced, according to George Pilgrim, trustee, who presided at last night's session attended by some 25 at the fire station.

Kenneth Mills, fire chief for six years, said earlier this week a representative of the state fire marshal's office suggested old officers retain their posts because some of the men balloting last week were ineligible.

The firemen will meet again next Thursday.

Intruder Gets $39 At Station

Coins and cigarettes valued at a total of $39 were taken Thursday night or early today by a burglar who rifled a cigarette vending machine at the Cities Service Station, 1148 Pennsylvania Ave., police said.

The intruder also took 15 pairs of men's work gloves worth $3 and a flashlight valued at $1.25, officers said. Entry was gained sometime between 9 p. m. Thursday and 7 a. m. today by breaking 4 panes of glass 8-x-12 inches on the east side of the station. The burglar carried the vending machine into a back room to rifle it, officers said. L. W. Hamilton is the proprietor.

Meanwhile, damage of about $50 resulted when another intruder tired unsuccessfully to rip a coin-operated washing machine off a wall in the E-Con-O Wash Laundry, 930 State St., police said. The intruder punched holes in knotty pine paneling on the wall in an attempt to remove the machine, officers said. The attempted theft occurred between 9:30 a. m. Thursday and 8 a. m. today.

Burglars forced their way into a truck of the Ken Buckley Cartage Co. of W. 4th St. Ext. Thursday night, but apparently nothing was taken from the cargo, officers said. Some articles of cargo, including cannister sets and casseroles, had been taken out of packing cartons and scattered on top of the truck, officers said.

Two motorists reported hubcap thefts. Richard Sebastian of Columbus said four hubcaps were taken from his car Thursday while it was parked on Thompson Ave. Ernest Slagle, 420 Prospect St., reported two hubcaps were taken from his auto while it was parked at his home between 11 p. m. Wednesday and 5 a. m. Thursday.

Why No Senators?

By James Marlow

'Exposure' Discourages Presidential Candidates

WASHINGTON
Why in this century has only one man, Warren G. Harding, been picked directly out of the Senate to run for the presidency?
This question has special pertinency in 1960 when five men connected with the Senate will be considered for presidential nomination.

True, the Senate is a grand forum for a politician to stay in the public eye. Perhaps the answer is right there. Prolonged exposure to public scrutiny of where he stands and why and how may be politically fatal to senators seeking the presidential nomination.

A forceful, aggressive senator of strong opinions and a willingness to fight for them against all comers will develop a following. But, because he is in controversy, he will create intense opposition, too.

Perhaps that is why in this century political parties have looked elsewhere—to governors or lawyers or a general—and picked men whose views were not well known and who therefore had not created broad antagonisms.

This reasoning, of course, does not apply in the case of a President seeking a second term.

The door to speculation on this was opened this week with the disclosure for the first time of the late Sen. Robert A. Taft's own analysis of why he lost the presidential nomination in 1952 to Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower.

Taft put the primary blame on the backing Eisenhower got from Wall Street and the newspapers. Nowhere in his analysis did he note what may have been the biggest factor in his defeat.

This was the fact that he was Robert A. Taft, a hardworking but highly controversial figure. His fellow Republicans apparently decided Eisenhower better fitted their needs or had a better chance of winning.

Ironically, it seems safe to say no senator in his time got as much newspaper publicity as Taft. Because of this his personality and views, widely known for years, got him friends, but also sturdy opponents.

And here enter other possible factors in the selection of a presidential candidate—the mood of the country at the moment of choosing and national circumstances.

Taft was a conservative who fought New Dealers. But by 1952 the mood of the country was increasingly liberal. Perhaps Taft was too much a symbol of conservatism for the Eisenhower wing of the party which, when it took over, not only accepted some New Deal programs but expanded on them.

In 1952, when the country was becoming more international-minded, Taft may have seemed too isolationist.

He had fought strenuously against some key international measures after the war, Eisenhower was internationalist.

Further, Taft, a tough fighter for what he believed, was in constant conflict with Democrats. But by 1952 the country, consciously or unconsciously, may have been fed up with conflict.

It had just gone through World War II, it was in the cold war with the Soviet Union and in the hot war in Korea. Republicans and Democrats were in constant cat and dog fights and the nation was split by McCarthyism.

These troubles probably worked in the favor of Eisenhower, a kindly man whose views were not well known, who was not controversial, who had not created a big bloc of enemies, and whose record as a soother of troubled waters made him look like one who could restore peace and quiet.

These factors probably worked in Harding's favor in 1920 when the country, after just emerging from World War I, was rent by President Wilson's struggle with the Senate over the League of Nations.

Harding, although a senator, did not have too much of a national following. He did not have strong views, was not controversial, had not made enemies, looked kind and like a man who could restore peace, or normalcy, as he called it.

Vice President Richard M. Nixon, who presides over the Senate, and four Democratic senators—Kennedy, Humphrey, Johnson and Symington—are all being mentioned as possible presidential candidates next year.

Nixon used to be hugely controversial but isn't so much now. None of the four Democrats is anywhere so controversial as Taft. None of them is identified with continuing conflict.

Perhaps, since the mood of the country is quiet now, one of them will be tapped. But this will not happen if the pattern of almost six decades, with the exception of Harding, is followed.

Can The Government Protect Itself?

The same United Steelworkers lawyer who tried to tie the government in knots over the Taft-Hartley injunction is still practicing rope tricks.

Arthur J. Goldberg, counsel for the union, has warned the U.S. Department of Commerce that if defense contractors do not stockpile steel during the injunction it won't be the Steelworkers' fault if they run short of steel when and if the steel strike is resumed in January.

A Taft-Hartley injunction cannot be renewed after it expires. This warning to the government by Mr. Goldberg sounds like an argument in advance against emergency legislation Congress might enact when it reconvenes, on the basis of a claimed emergency in national defense.

The Steelworkers then could point to the record. Its counsel had told the government what to expect and the government had spurned its advice. Therefore, the union could not be held responsible for the government's failure to heed what it had been warned about. Therefore, the union should not be blamed.

This amounts to saying, if Mr. Goldberg were to be interpreted figuratively, that it is up to the government to look out for itself because it is not the concern of the Steelworkers Union to be its government's keeper.

AS FOR THE general public and its steel needs, the union is equally unconcerned. Mr.

Goldberg said before the Supreme Court that public health and safety were not at issue, despite rising layoffs and shortages. In other words, the rights of a union to create shortages are superior to the rights of consumers and even to the authority of government.

It has been assumed throughout the steel strike, as it is assumed in most strikes, that the leaders of the strike always knew what they were doing. It must still be assumed that the leaders of the steel strike know what they are doing.

But it can be questioned if they understand the consequences of what they are doing. Do they really believe they can tell the government and the people to lump it if they don't like it and not challenge their fellow citizens to take another look at the laws that encouraged them to think they were bigger than everybody else put together?

THIS IS the only country on earth where the leader of a union can tell the government what to do. Certainly no industrialist can do it, and no group of industrialists would dare to try, because they would be accused of collusion.

But when the Steelworkers Union says, "Start saving steel, Sam, we're ready to pull the switch again and we won't be responsible if you run short for defense needs," it begins to be clear that this must be the only country on earth that would let itself be dictated to in such a high-handed manner by a minority.

Communists Play One-Way Game

By Victor Riesel

Recently I had an exclusive interview with Georgi Zhukov, chairman of the U.S.S.R. State Committee for Cultural Relations With Foreign Countries.

He is a master of impressive resistance. Only once did he answer a question directly.

I asked him if he was related to the deposed Soviet Marshal Georgi Zhukov. "The trouble with the Soviet Union," he began as I scribbled swiftly, "is that there are too many Zhukovs."

I then queried whether his State Cultural Committee would be interfering in American life if we exchanged all sorts of delegations, including labor leaders. He quickly replied he liked U.S. movies and more quickly walked away, his beatnik-type trenchcoat waving behind him.

Now I note we have signed a cultural exchange agreement with the U.S.S.R. Representing the Russians was Zhukov. As he signed, he demanded a pledge that "neither side would attempt to interfere in the affairs of the other."

This is what Moscow's exchange chief asked of the United States. Yet at the very moment Zhukov was negotiating with the American ambassador to the Soviet Union representative of the Soviet Communist party was organizing action cadres in the United States.

THE COMMUNIST agent is the thin, graying Irving Potash. He is a Soviet operative with experience in the old Fur and Leather Workers Union—and later in Warsaw, Moscow and Peiping.

Potash accepted voluntary deportation several years ago. He slipped back into the United States on orders from the International Communist movement. He was arrested, convicted and served a term in Atlanta.

Then the Immigration Service tried to deport him. This was balked by the Soviets. No Iron Curtain country was permitted to accept him.

This, of course, meant that Potash was free to stay and operate in the United States. Very clever people, the Soviets. In November 1958, he secretly became labor secretary of the American Communist party.

This last Nov. 4 to Nov. 9, there was a secret session of the American Communist's National Executive Committee. They met in New York. The party's high command was tongue-lashed by Potash. For what? For failing to exploit the steel strike and create incidents.

HERE IS WHAT Potash, an international Soviet operative illegally in this land, told the committee:

"The party has not learned how to utilize its membership in trade union work," he said during the discussion of new Communist labor strategy in this country.

"It has failed to give proper guidance to union members in carrying out the party line. Those Communist party members who are also trade unionists are not sufficiently acquainted with union leaders who have well advanced ideas."

"The party members are, therefore, not in a position to influence, guide and direct these people along the lines specifically desired by the Communist party."

Now note here the use of the words "specifically desired by the Communist party." This is as clear a reference to directives from the Communist International as anyone can make.

Potash singled out the steel strike as "a fine example" of how the Communist party of the United States failed to capitalize fully on a crisis "to increase its influence and prestige among the workers and to strengthen the party in the labor political movement."

Then he ordered the National Executive Committee to "establish functioning commissions in various fields of labor to supplement those now functioning in steel, auto and the railroads."

AN ACTION PROGRAM for infiltration of the American labor movement was developed under Potash's guidance—and, of course, his authority as the Soviet's international labor whip in this land.

This program will be presented—in very careful Aesopian language—to the American Communist party's 17th national convention. The sessions are scheduled for New York City between Dec. 10 and Dec. 13.

Now if this isn't interference in American life, what is?

If Georgi Zhukov's committee expects to be treated with the dignity it so frequently demands, the Russians should not jeopardize their standing in our land with their underground activities.

Two weeks of observation and inquiry in New York after a six weeks' absence reveals a growing sentiment for Vice President Nixon, despite the increasing reality of Gov. Rockefeller's bid for the Republican nomination.

There has been a great deal of criticism of the governor's increases in taxes while maintaining a high level of spending. But this was a resentment which might have faded away. His unannounced but quite obvious candidacy for the presidential nomination has changed that resentment into the positive direction of supporting Vice President Nixon.

MUCH MORE SERIOUS, however, than unhappiness about taxes is the unhappiness of Republican leaders in the big city and state organizations over the lack of consideration for party loyalty manifested by Rockefeller in his policies and appointments.

One Republican district leader in New York City with whom I talked gave me a long list of appointments by the governor in which no consideration was shown for the workers who loyally supported his 1958 campaigning.

He said that no appointments were made in the range of $8,000 a year from among genuine Republican leaders. Some of the larger plums have gone to Democrats and political "strangers."

This unhappiness among Republicans goes back to the Rockefeller campaign in 1958. In the advertising promulgated by his campaign organization there was little or no mention of the Republican party. And except for Kenneth Keating who was running for the Senate, the lesser candidates were ignored.

His contacts with the Republican workers in the districts were fleeting or nonexistent.

All this, together with his more recent public utterances, has earned him the reputation of being un-Republican except in name.

THE LEADERS in the big cities in New York City prudently keep quiet about their feelings and may in the course of the months ahead support his candidacy.

But these bigger leaders are not the ones who get out the votes. That falls upon the assembly district leaders and workers. Without their enthusiastic support, the votes are not mustered, and there is no disposition to lift a hand now.

In these last weeks of 1959 and in early 1960 these local leaders will be busy making contacts with potential volunteer workers, who must bear the drudgery of the presidential campaign after the nomination.

The number, ability, and enthusiasm of these volunteers will, as always, be the major factor in the door-to-door canvassing which gets out the party vote. But in mobilizing volunteers this year, there are qualifications.

I have been shown lists of such potential volunteers—mostly women engaged in business or housewives with time to spend in politics—who have specified that they will work if Nixon is nominated. One of them said: "Work for Rockefeller? Never again."

Last week a group of New Yorkers dedicated to the nomination of Nixon opened headquarters on Madison Ave. near 57th St. They were amazed by the popular reception of their efforts. On opening day the crowd at the place resembled a Christmas rush in Macy's.

A "Citizens for Nixon" organization was established which included several noteworthy names associated with the pre-convention Eisenhower movement in 1952. Thus, the "blitz" which nominated Willie and Eisenhower is turning not to Rockefeller but Nixon.

Infantry In Top Shape

By Thomas R. Henry

WASHINGTON

"The artillery, the cavalry, the engineers."

"They couldn't lick the infantry in a hundred thousand years."

Apparently there was more than idle boasting to this old World War I song, according to a report just released by the quartermaster corps.

The report says that the fighting infantryman is in better shape than any other soldier. The research was done by the late Dr. Ernest A. Hooten of Harvard University, who made an anthropometric survey of 50,000 troops.

The survey shows that, presumably without conscious selection, the best physical types gravitate toward the infantry. This holds true for both officers and men.

The report states that the infantry has the fewest number of men "in all thin types and in all sub-medium and medium-fat types when these types have the lowest degree of muscular development. It also is noted for deficiencies in fat and very fat types."

On the other hand, the infantry has more than its share of "the strong, balanced, short-to-medium type and of other types of superior and dominating muscularity that are neither emaciated nor obese."

Admittedly, Dr. Hooten reported, strenuous infantry training has something to do with it, but this cannot account for the difference if the infantry did not start with the right kind of material in the first place.

Next to the infantry in physical status, his statistics show, come the army ground forces in general, including artillery.

Sonic Setback

By Eric Downton

MONTREAL

The most expensive five seconds in Canadian civil aviation history is being studied by international experts.

What happened when a jet plane broke the sound barrier low over Ottawa's new Uplands Airport terminal holds important lessons for airports throughout the world in the opinion of representatives of the International Civil Aviation Organization, which has its headquarters here.

When a U.S. Air Force F-104 supersonic jet Sarlighter put on a demonstration requested by senior officers of the Royal Canadian Air Force, and zoomed through the sound barrier only 300 feet over the airport, the terrific shock of the sonic explosion caused more than $500,000 worth of structural damage to the brand new buildings.

Heavy metal beams buckled, scores of windows shattered, foundations were jarred; power, light and plumbing were disrupted, walls cracked, and instruments were broken. An unspecified amount of damage was caused in hangars nearby.

OPENING of the 6-million-dollar new terminal complex, scheduled for before Christmas, has been set back six months. This means a half-year delay before the much-touted new airport facilities replace the antiquated, dreary, much-criticized Shakti Airport now serving the Canadian capital. Indirectly the havoc created during those five seconds after the F104—by no means the fastest of manned planes—broke the sound barrier will run into millions.

Canadian Transport Minister George Hees strongly denies design of the airport terminal building or anything faulty or shoddy in the construction work.

"The sonic explosion in such close proximity," he says, "subjected the terminal building to five times the hurricane force which it had been designed to withstand. Any building old or new would be likely to suffer as much or greater damage if exposed to a sonic explosion of this sort at such close quarters."

In theory, he adds, it should not have happened that a military aircraft did this over a civil airport.

WHAT IS SUCH a mishap occurred over New York's Idlewild, Chicago's Midway, London Airport, or Paris's Orly? This is the nightmare possibility that the ICAO experts are considering.

Would the whole system of control for the fleets of arriving and departing airliners be thrown into dangerous chaos? The experts are wondering just how shockproof the sensitive airport instruments and radar systems are, and how ready and practiced the emergency routines are.

In theory, no plane can break the sound barrier near enough to a major civilian airport to cause heavy structural and instrument damage. But the Ottawa incident showed it can happen.

With the proportion of jet aircraft rapidly growing, ICAO officials feel that the question of potential damage to airports by sonic explosions has not received adequate attention.

A senior officer of the Royal Canadian Air Force thoughtfully touched upon another aspect of the Ottawa incident. "It suggests," he said, "some interesting ideas for sabotage."

Haunted By Satchels

By Frank Tripp

Any day maybe I'll be subpoenaed to explain about dusty valises, suitcases and satchels that clutter our attic. A dozen or so have been there 30 years or more.

They are telltale evidence that I actually have accepted pay for plying my trade. Which could lead to discovery that I have been paid money.

My trade is putting words together in such arrangement that they express a thought, be it sane or silly. Mostly I write them, but in gone-by giddy days I orated them, which is how came the satchels.

Relying upon promised freedom of speech and press, I have pursued the nefarious writing practice to earn a living and pay my taxes; which makes the government an accessory and accomplice, since it demands the bulk of the loot. But for taxes I needn't be half the crook I am.

If the snoops hear about those satchels that they didn't get their share of, I might be yanked to Washington, where nobody—outside Congress—durst tell a lie—and I'd be sunk.

YOU SEE I was such a lousy speaker that the pay I got for orating was only honorariums; invariably things I didn't want, and couldn't use. I got satchels, satchels, satchels. Every audience wanted me to pack up and get as far away as possible.

The real purpose of an honorarium is to give the chairman something in his hand when the newspaper takes his picture thanking you for the "intellectual treat so generously bestowed upon dear old Siwash."

If I had charged a hundred bucks I never would have been there. So many wind bags are itching to spout for free that horseshoeing and chaircaning are far better fields.

A bricklayer can accept pay for putting bricks around each other, and not be a suspect. But to do the same thing with words it seems a writer these days can jeopardize his right to work—if he displeases the money-changers.

Suckered listeners got a kick out of the phony quiz expose. Reasonable people enjoy a laugh at their own gullibility.

But when a government agency takes a backhand swipe at freedom of speech and press it meddles with our birthrights: The right of people to know, to have opinions and the right to express them.

I SHALL SAY and write what I think, and accept responsibility for it; earn as many dollars as I can get for the job. That is paign total doesn't take a rapid upturn. Let's hope this isn't necessary. The six agencies benefitting from the fund—as emphasized time and again—offer services that only progressive community needs. Our children will suffer the most if we fail to come through with the necessary fund dollars.

Other communities have gone over the top. There's no reason why East Liverpool and her neighbors can't, too. As drive officials pointed out, you don't have to have the cash now. Make a pledge and pay later.

Let's get behind the fund in a final push that will put it near the goal or over the top.

my trade—the only one specifically guaranteed by the Constitution.

What I write or say becomes the affair of others if I harm them, even disturb them. What I'm paid for, the government hears honestly in tax returns—and takes most of it. Beyond that it's none of government's business.

This is resentment that writers of known responsibility and veracity were snagged into the quiz mess for plying their grade; because sometime they commented upon factors and people involved—and didn't do it for satchels.

Out with such attempted intimidation, and forces that abet it. Might go in Russia, but it won't work here.

Odd Facts

Light consists of waves and color of light depends on the wave length. The longest wave lengths that we can see are red, the shortest violet. White light is a mixture of many wave lengths, and our eyes respond differently to these wave lengths and send different signals to the brain—this resulting in the sensation of color.

Officially speaking, the United States consists of 45 states and four commonwealths. The four commonwealths are Massachusetts, Pennsylvania, Virginia and Kentucky. The two words have about the same meaning, but "commonwealth" originally connoted more of self-government than "state."

The U. S. Secret Service was first assigned to protect the president and his family in 1901, after the assassination of McKinley. At that time, the Secret Service was the only investigating or enforcement agency in the government and its first presidential job was Theodore Roosevelt.

For more than 130 years, the United States has been the greatest agricultural nation in the world. The American farmer produces in two years more wealth than have all the gold mines of the entire world in the last 50 years.

Since the organization of the Republican party under that name, the only U. S. Republican president, prior to Dwight D. Eisenhower, to serve two full terms has been Ulysses S. Grant.

New Thinking Order Dooms All Religions, Briton Claims

CHICAGO, (AP)—A new order of thinking will doom all religions, Sir Julian Huxley of London, internationally famed biologist, has predicted.

Huxley, grandson of Thomas Huxley, noted biologist who defended Charles Darwin against attacks, made the prediction Thursday at convocation exercises at the University of Chicago.

The meeting was in conjunction with ceremonies commemorating the 100th anniversary of the publication of Darwin's "Origin of the Species." Some 2,000 scientists are attending.

Huxley said "there is no longer either need or room for supernatural beings capable of affecting the course of events in the evolutionary pattern of thought."

"The earth was not created,"

he said, "it evolved. So did all the animals and plants that inhabit it, including our human selves, mind and soul as well as brain and body."

"Evolutionary man can no longer take refuge from his loneliness by creeping for shelter into the arms of a divinized father figure whom he has himself created, nor escape from the responsibility of making decisions by sheltering under the umbrella of divine authority, nor absolve himself from the hard task of meeting his present problems and planning his future by relying on the will of an omniscient, but unfortunately inscrutable, providence."

"A religion of some sort is probably necessary, but it is not necessarily a good thing."

Scio Pottery To Make $250,000 Expansion

SCIO — A $250,000 expansion for the Scio Pottery Co. is slated to get under way in December, Richard Reese, production vice president of the firm, announced.

Included in the construction project are a glass kiln, a decorating kiln and new warehouse. Operating at capacity for most of this year, the firm has added 243 new workers, making the total employment 1,180, the company said.

Scott Reese, 56, president of the company, is convalescing at Canton's Mercy Hospital following extraction of a three-inch chicken bone which lodged in his throat while dining at a restaurant last week.

Reds Asked To Clarify Position On A-Group

GENEVA (AP) — The United States and Britain urged the Soviet Union today to clarify its views on the functions of the seven-nation control commission proposed for a nuclear test ban organization.

Little progress is expected at the test ban negotiations while nuclear scientists from East and West continue their separate review of methods for detecting underground blasts.

leged traffic mishap on Lisbon St. However, he said his car was not involved in a crash.

In the motion for dismissal, Assistant Solicitor Richard J. Clark told the court he decided to drop the hit-skip charge after talking with Patrolman R. E. Higgins, the arresting officer. The officer did not witness the alleged crash and the motorist whose car was involved is a California resident, the solicitor said. In addition, Ensinger denied he had knowledge of a crash, but the law says the offender must "knowingly" leave the scene without offering information required by the statute, the solicitor pointed out.

Each violation accounts for 6 points under the Ohio "demerit" system. When a driver accumulates 12 points, law requires the state to act for revocation of his license.

Two other motorists were fined today and four forfeited bonds.

Donald J. Shultz, 30, of Denmore Ave. was fined $10 and costs when he pleaded guilty to operating an auto with faulty brakes. He was cited Tuesday after he backed his car out of a W. 7th St. garage and collided with a passing auto.

Joseph E. Boso, 804 1/2 St. Clair Ave., was fined $10 and costs for driving 65 miles an hour in a 50-mile zone and $25 and costs for operating an auto without a driver's license. He was cited at 4:08 a. m. Thursday at E. 4th St. and Broadway.

Bonds of $16 were forfeited by four drivers cited by the State Highway Patrol. The motorists and their alleged offenses were:

Dane A. Dysert, 969 Main St., Wellsville, and Robert B. Hoffman, 816 Broadway, Wellsville, both accused of driving 70 miles an hour in a 50-mile zone on Route 7 Wednesday night; Roy S. Brunk of Barberton, ignoring a stop sign on Route 7 Wednesday night at 7:45; Donald Hammond of Buffalo, passing over a yellow line on Route 30 Wednesday at 4:55 p. m., and Harry M. Watkins of M.C. Route 22, $25 and costs for use of fictitious license plates and $5 and costs for reckless driving. He was cited by the patrol Friday on Route 7.

Man Is Overcome From Gas Fumes

A 57-year-old West End man is in "fairly good" condition today at City Hospital after being found unconscious Thanksgiving morning in the room of a friend on W. 2nd St.

Oliver Duke, 869 Fairview St., was admitted to the hospital at 7 a. m. yesterday as the result of inhalation of gas fumes.

Firemen were called to the room at 108 W. 2nd St. at 6:45 a. m. and administered oxygen to Duke before he was rushed to the hospital by ambulance. Duke also suffered a laceration of the right temple, firemen said.

Asst. Fire Chief Alfred Van Dyne said the room was tightly closed and all four burners on a stove were blazing high. Van Dyne theorized the fire consumed the oxygen in the room.

Apparently attempting to get out of the room, Duke stumbled and fell against the door frame, striking his head, the assistant chief continued.

The occupant of the room is a patient in the hospital, the assistant chief said.

Salineville Plans Parade For Santa And Yule Lights

SALINEVILLE — Arrival of Santa Claus in a special parade and lighting of the Christmas street decorations are slated for Dec. 5, according to firemen and officials of the Ruritan Club.

A parade, featuring Santa on the fire truck, treats, and the high school band will be held at 7 p. m. when the street lights will be turned on for the start of the holiday season.

The lighting — sponsored by the Ruritan Club and financed through contributions by merchants — will be on nightly through Jan. 2.

Walker Irvine, president, suggested merchants plan Christmas displays in line with the lighting schedule.

Firemen said the parade and treats are also supported by the merchants.

The annual public pancake supper of the Ruritan Club is planned from 5 to 7 that night at the high school cafeteria. Proceeds will be used for community service projects, Irvine said.

Georgetown Man Due Hearing In Car Theft

Howard Henry Mitchell, 21, of Georgetown will go before a U. S. commissioner today at Pittsburgh to face an FBI charge of taking a stolen car over a state line, the Rochester barracks of the Pennsylvania State Police reported.

Mitchell is alleged to have stolen a car Tuesday in East Liverpool, which belongs to William Weaver of Florida Ave., Chester. The car was recovered Tuesday evening along the Ohio River at Georgetown and state police arrested Mitchell at his home.

Mitchell may also face a disorderly conduct charge placed by state police.

Keep In Trim

By IDA JEAN KAIN

Reducers Need Exercise For Muscle Areas

Pounds are so contrary... they pile on the most conspicuous spots, namely on the waist and abdomen. When you go on a diet to reduce, the fat clings tenaciously to those spots where it has been living the longest. To make matters worse, fat in the middle is the biggest factor in increasing one's dress size.

In reducing, fat is used generally, not from spots. However, exercise stirs up the circulation in the muscle-lazy areas, thus making the fat more readily available for use. Then with precision exercise, tone is restored to specific muscles and toned muscles hold the figure to trimmer, slimmer lines.

Shape-ups need not be strenuous. Regularity is the secret. These two exercises, taken daily, will flatten the front and shape the waist.

THE FLABBIEST muscles in the midsection are likely to be the group of front muscles. Start the toning there with single leg raising from a flat on back position.

Why not double leg raising to make it twice as effective? Because that exercise imposes too much strain on weak muscles; also it tends to pull the small of the back off the floor which encourages swayback and can actually make the stomach appear bigger. As the back sways in, the abdomen curves out.

Experiment with the first exercise to see which starting position is best for you.

First position: Lying flat on back on floor, have both legs straight down.

Second position: Lying on back on floor, have left knee bent, sole of left foot flat on floor, right leg straight down.

Movement: Raise right leg half way up, and very slowly lower leg to floor, counting out loud to a slow count of ten. By counting aloud you cannot make the mistake of holding your breath. Throughout the exercise keep a firm grip on the middle muscles and press small of back to floor. That's the test — if you cannot keep small of back on floor, then take the exercise with one knee bent and sole of foot on floor. Repeat exercise 10 times.

Position: "Stand" on knees, have arms outstretched at sides, shoulder level. Now sit back on legs, buttocks resting on backs of legs. Keep a firm grip on girdle muscles by a strong up-and-in pull-hold.

MOVEMENT: Bend slowly to the right side, aiming to touch fingers of right hand to floor at side. Come back to center position and bend to the left.

The second time, try to stretch out with left fingers as you bend

Father Kills 2 Sons, Self In Columbus

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—An apparent murder-suicide claimed the lives of three suburban Upper Arlington persons Thanksgiving eve.

Police found Fred Bauman, 33, on the floor, and his two sons, Todd, 3, and Charles, 7, in their bunk beds, in their home, all dead of shotgun blasts in the head.

Bauman's wife, Edith Jane, 29, had returned home from work at a pharmacy and found the three, police said. She was placed under sedation.

A 16-gauge shotgun was found at Bauman's feet. Records showed he had purchased the gun the day of the shooting.

No ruling has been made in the deaths. Mrs. Bauman said her husband had threatened suicide when they lived at North Lima, near Youngstown. She said they had been having some minor domestic difficulties and had been discussing them openly recently.

A note found by police near Bauman's body and apparently written by him was addressed to Mrs. Bauman. It described a trip to a store, saying both the boys had a good time playing with toys at the store.

Crucible Works To Install Degassing Unit For Alloys

A Dortmund Horder Hutteneun degassing unit, the first in the United States, will be installed at the Midland Works of the Crucible Steel Co. early in 1960 on a pilot production basis, the company announced.

Joel Hunter, Crucible's president, said the purchase includes complete technical and operational know-how. He said "our purchase of this unit is another step in strengthening Crucible's leadership in development and production of top quality, special purposes steels."

"We hope that this process will result in attaining new quality levels through effective carbon deoxidation of molten steel."

The complete installation will be designed and constructed by the Lectromelt Furnace Division of McGraw Edison Co., based on over six years of development work by D. H. H. West Germany's largest steel producer.

2 Jap Students Arrested In Death Of U.S. Teacher

TOKYO (AP) — Two Japanese university students were under arrest today in connection with the fatal beating of Dr. Charles E. Perry, an American teacher at St. Paul's University here.

Newspaper reports said one of the youths struck Dr. Perry on the head and face Thursday night after he admonished the pair for throwing rocks at his home and entering the university campus while drunk.

Another St. Paul's teacher, Nobumoto Takuma, rushed to the American's aid and turned the students over to police. Dr. Perry died at his home a short time later of a brain hemorrhage.

The youths, identified as Setsuji Mori and Teruo Yokoyama, both 19, attend Daito Cultural University, which adjoins St. Paul's, an Episcopal institution. No charges were filed immediately.

Dr. Perry, 51, a native of Whitesboro, N.Y., had been a member of the St. Paul's faculty since 1951. He came here from St. Lawrence University in New York.

The youngest twin, Pamela Louise, arrived in Kentucky last month. Sister Julie Ann arrived three weeks ago from a hospital in Newfoundland.

The babies' father, Bryant, last month was released from the Air Force in England. He and his family now live on one of his father's farms.

2 At Ohio Pen Honor Camp Escape In Truck

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Two prisoners at the Ohio Penitentiary honor camp in Junction City escaped in a farm truck Thursday, Warden Beryle C. Sacks reported today.

U.S., Philippine Military Leaders Discuss Security

MANILA (AP) — U. S. and Philippine military commanders conferred for two hours today and reportedly agreed on new joint security measures for American bases here.

The conference was called by Philippine Defense Secretary Alejo Santos in the wake of an American congressman's demand that the United States abandon this country as a Pacific defense project.

U. S. Rep. Phil Weaver (R-Neb) issued a statement in Washington Wednesday charging that a "graft-ridden" Philippine government was openly harassing American servicemen and that there was "mass looting of American property" here.

Child May Benefit From Sense Of Guilt

Having heard and read so much about the harm to persons resulting from a sense of guilt about their behavior in certain types of situations, you may suppose that no parent or child should ever feel guilty about anything he has said or done, even though he knew it was wrong. Believing this literally you would not want your child ever to feel sorry, "feel bad inside," feel a sense of guilt. You would never let yourself feel guilty for any wrong you knew you had done. You would not ask anybody to forgive you, no matter how sure you were you had harmed him. You wouldn't use the words in that parent's prayer.

I ONCE wrote for myself: "Give me the courage to confess my sins against my children and to ask of them forgiveness when I know that I have done them wrong." (A copy of this prayer may be had by sending a self-addressed, stamped envelope to me in care of this newspaper.)

How could you ever earnestly pray to your Heavenly Father to forgive you? Would you really have any conscience left?

The oft-accepted warnings about feelings of guilt seem to have started with psychiatric diagnosis and treatment of persons mentally ill or ailing.

There are persons so overcome by a sense of guilt that they are unable to regain their emotional bearings without professional help.

Often this excessive and continued feeling of guilt relates to insignificant matters, or to matters wholly beyond their control.

But for you and me and any other average person, a sensitive conscience makes us feel unhappy after we have done or said something we know is morally wrong.

AS A RULE, this is fortunate for our own self-guidance. But how is your child going to guide himself if he never feels guilty after doing what he has learned from you to be wrong?

Our hope in guiding our children when they are away from us is to guide them so well when they are with us, in an atmosphere of family understanding and love, that they will feel comfortable when, in our absence, they do about as they would do when with us and uncomfortable when they do otherwise.

Call this uncomfortable feeling a sense of guilt if you like; it has a very potent place.

When we punish a child for his wrong deeds, the punishment often consists of our anger toward him expressed by words, voice and gesture. Many experts approve our anger at him, some saying they are good for both of us when the child knows we have them.

Don't we want him to feel sorry and have a sense of guilt after doing what he has learned was wrong?

He may get emotional relief from this sense of guilt after he has paid the penalty following apprehension or has voluntarily told us all about his misdeed when we didn't have the facts. In either event, he should know the matter is thereafter a closed book and that, emulating our Heavenly Father, we have forgiven him.

WSCS To Provide Yule Boxes For Youths In Service

NBC said Thursday it expects to announce the names of the advisory committee members next week.

American Broadcasting Co. and Columbia Broadcasting System said they would not adopt such a plan.

Advertising executive Sigurd S. Larmon, who had suggested a citizens committee to review television standards, conceded that the plan appeared doomed because of its rejection by ABC and CBS. Larmon, chairman of the Young & Rubicam, Inc., advertising agency, said his plan could not function without unanimous industry approval.

Larmon's proposal called for broadcasters, sponsors and advertising agencies to participate.

150 Scouts Enter Model Cars For Pinewood Derby

About 150 boys will race their model cars in the Cherokee Boy Scout District "Pinewood Derby" Saturday from 1 to 4 p. m. at Westgate School, Dan Kelly, public relations officer, said.

William Rayburn, district camping and activities chairman, will be in charge, assisted by Eugene Seeley of Chester, district commissioner, and the district neighborhood commissioners.

Fathers, who have helped the boys build the models, will place the cars on the 32-foot, 8-lane track. The Shawnee District will hold its derby Dec. 5 in Salem. Both districts will send winners to the County Council derby Saturday, Dec. 12, at Lisbon.

Owners of the three fastest cars in the district will be given trophies. All first, second and third place heat winners in a district will be eligible to compete in the council derby.

No Lisp, But Quack

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP)—A young boy's slight lisp is almost gone after his parents took the advice of a school consultant and played a record, "Donald Duck Takes a Speech Lesson," over and over for the boy.

But now, his parents say, their son talks like Donald Duck.

Mrs. Otis Doughty Elected As Grace Group Head Again

Mrs. Otis Doughty was elected to her second term as president at the meeting of the Women's Association of the Grace United Presbyterian Church Tuesday night in the social rooms.

Others elected and installed were Mrs. Homer Conklin, recording secretary; Mrs. Helen Reed, corresponding secretary, and Mrs. Marion Harger, treasurer. Committee chairmen are:

Mrs. Jack Conley and Mrs. Sanford Hill, program; Mrs. Norman Dotson, spiritual life and stewardship; Mrs. Norman Neal, missionary education; Mrs. Lawrence Johnston, social education and action; Miss Grace Chamberlain, literature; Mrs. Carrie Hargraves, fellowship; Mrs. Charlotte Cole, membership.

Mrs. Mary Barrett, children's work; Mrs. Agnes Barrett, evangelism; Mrs. Dolores Moore, world service; Mrs. Zelma Walton, national missions; and Mrs. Mabel Conley, ecumenical missions; and Mrs. Marilyn Cowan and Mrs. Mabel Conley, circle leaders.

The nominating committee will include Mrs. Mabel Waggle, one-year term; Mrs. Pearl Byrne, two years and Mrs. Sue Hamilton, three years.

Mrs. Doughty gave the opening prayer and the group sang "Come, Ye Thankful People, Come," with Mrs. Martha White accompanist. For Scripture, Mrs. Johnston read Ps. 103 and Mrs. White offered prayer.

Mrs. Marilyn Wagner sang "Count Your Blessings." "The First Thanksgiving" was read by Mrs. Moore.

A quartet, Miss Linda McIntosh, Mrs. Wagner, Mrs. White and Miss Darla Bennett, sang "I Shall Not Pass This Way Again." Mrs. Hazel Rose was accompanist.

A film on "Alaska," prepared by Northwest Orient Airlines, was screened.

Mrs. James Double and Miss Chamberlain gave the closing prayers.

Mrs. Doughty presided for business. The group voted to adopt a Korean child. The thank-offering received will be sent to Brazil to train church leaders.

Mrs. Rose distributed copies of "Adventryst," devotion booklet for the Christmas season.

Straw flowers and Thanksgiving novelties were used on the buffet table at which the president poured.

A combined circle Christmas party will be held Dec. 8 at the church. The fellowship chairman of each circle will have charge of the social hour and the program will be presented by the program chairman of each group.

The next association meeting will be Feb. 23 at the church.

Disc Jockey Says That He'll Appear In Jury's Probe

NEW YORK (AP)—Disc jockey Alan Freed says he will comply with a subpoena to appear Monday before a Manhattan grand jury investigating payola in television and radio.

Freed was served with the subpoena Wednesday night. Detectives searched for hours after he failed to show up at Dist. Atty. Frank S. Hogan's office.

Asked by newsmen why he had not appeared at Hogan's office, as requested, Freed replied: "I will not volunteer for anybody. My grandmother once told me, 'Never volunteer for anything.'"

Freed, who has lost both his television and radio outlets here, has denied several times that he ever took payola — undercover payments to plug tunes on the air. He has declined to tell newsmen what was discussed when he was questioned by representatives of a Senate subcommittee investigating payola.

Officer Thought Rain Was Shrinking His Car

LINCOLN, Neb. (AP)—Policeman Lyle Bigley parked his small foreign car at the police station and went to work on his beat. His colleagues rolled the car into the police garage and replaced it with a child's pedal car, which Bigley found on his return.

The officer entered the police station and asked the duty lieutenant for a tarpaulin. "The rain's shrinking my car," he said.

Council is scheduled to meet tonight at 7 with representatives of city employees who are protesting a decision to reject a report of the

Traffic

by Municipal Judge George L. Brow, who convicted her at a hearing shortly after the mishap. She pleaded not guilty.

Police said a halted 1951 two-door sedan driven by Mrs. Ida R. Conkle, 50, of 1252 Northside Ave. was struck from the rear by Mrs. Hales, 1957 sedan on W. 9th St. at Chestnut St. The entire front end of the Hales car and the left rear fender and truck of the Conkle car were damaged, officers said.

The police report said Mrs. Hales reported the traffic light at the intersection was green and while watching the light she ran into the rear of the Conkle car. In her testimony, Mrs. Hales told the court the Conkle car was halted in the middle of the intersection underneath the green light.

Two autos were damaged in two other traffic mishaps Wednesday night and Thursday.

A 1951 sedan owned by Leaman M. Stanley, 31, of Freedom, drifted backward on the lot of the Petrol Service Station at Pennsylvania Ave. and Park Way Thursday at 3:27 p. m. and struck a 1947 station wagon owned by Robert McKinnon of Fisher Ave., which was halted at a gas pump, officers said.

The left front fender and hood of the local car were damaged.

Thomas E. Danley, 18, of 517 Campground Rd., Wellsville, told police his auto was damaged in a hit-skip collision Wednesday at 11:17 p. m. at 4th and Market Sts. Another car hit Danley's auto, which was halted for a traffic light, but the offending car did not stop, police reported.

Chester Driver Cited Following Newell Crash

A Chester motorist is to appear tonight before Squire Arley White of Newell on a charge of failing to have his auto under control as the aftermath of an accident Wednesday afternoon in Newell.

Hancock County Sheriff Clayton Hobbs said Roy Wilson McLain, 712 3rd St., Chester, was cited after he crashed a stop sign at 5th and Grant Sts. and struck a 1951 sedan driven by Helen Louise Parrish, 610 Grant St., Newell.

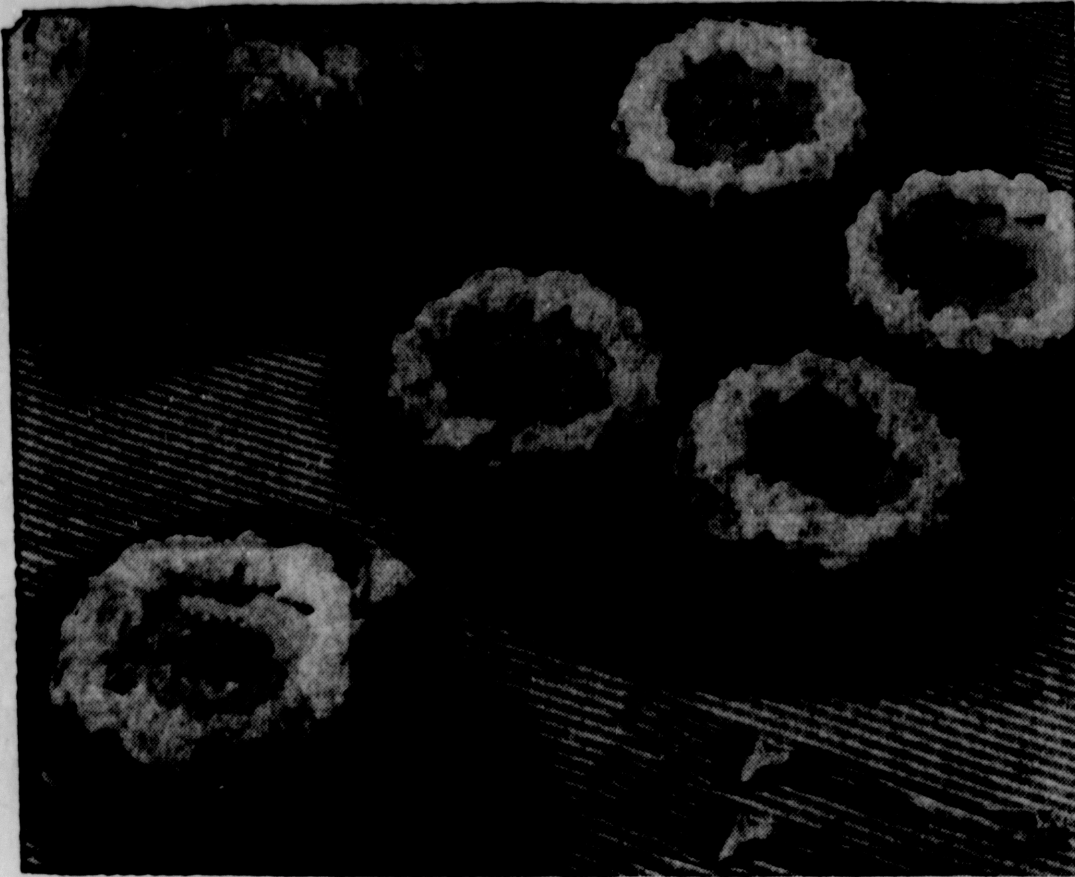

McLain was headed north on 5th St. and the Parrish car was traveling west on Grant St., the sheriff said. McLain's 1951 sedan struck the left rear of the Parrish car, spinning it around, he added.

371 Japanese Injured In Anti-U.S. Flareup

TOKYO (AP) — Thousands of chanting, shouting Japanese surged through Tokyo streets today and invaded the grounds of the Parliament building, demanding an end to military ties with the United States.

Police reported 371 persons were injured, 23 seriously. Among the injured were 159 policemen. It was the most violent demonstration since the 1952 May Day riot, in which one Japanese was killed and 500 injured.

Pumpkin Tarts Are 'Mix-Quick', Delicious

These tarts are bound to be a success for more reasons than one.

First of all, they are delicious. Because they are prepared with instant pudding mix and dessert topping they are sure to have a perfect set with a rich, smooth texture and, finally, they are wonderful in flavor, with the addition of pumpkin and spice.

The filling is easily made in a matter of minutes and then goes into the cooled tart shells to set. At the last minute the tarts are garnished with the remaining prepared topping mix and walnut halves. Here is a dessert that is bound to please!

Dream Pumpkin Tarts

1 package dessert topping mix

1/2 cup cold milk
1/2 teaspoon vanilla
1 package vanilla instant pudding mix
1 cup canned pumpkin
2-3 cup milk

1/4 to 1/2 teaspoon nutmeg
1/4 to 1/2 teaspoon ginger
1/4 to 1/2 teaspoon cinnamon
6 baked tart shells, cooled

Prepare dessert topping mix with 1/2 cup milk and the vanilla as directed on the package. Then combine 1 cup of the prepared dessert topping mix with 1 t.e. pudding mix, pumpkin, 2-3 cup milk, and the spices in a bowl. Beat slowly with an egg beater just until well mixed, about 1 minute.

Pour into tart shells. Chill until set, about 2 hours. Garnish with remaining dessert topping mix and walnut halves, if desired. Makes 6 servings.

Deer Had Bad Time

U.N. Will Keep Eye

On Hungary Situation

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)

—A special United Nations representative reported today there was no visible change in the Hungarian situation which would warrant relaxation of U. N. interest and concern.

This declaration was made by Sir Leslie Munro of New Zealand, former president of the General Assembly. He was named last year to use his influence to end alleged repressions which started in Hungary after the 1956 uprising.

Munro said that, although he had been denied admission to Hungary, there had been substantial information that trials and executions were continuing. He also asserted there was an "imminent possibility of further executions."

Needy For November

Get 7 1/2 Tons Of Food

Over seven and a half tons of surplus food was distributed in November in Columbiana County, according to Robert Bycroft, welfare director and head of the food program.

Totals included 1,415 pounds of rice, 7,000 of flour, 5,400 of cornmeal and 1,570 of egg solids.

A total of 939 cases, involving 3,718 persons, were certified to receive food but only 513 cases, or 2,099 persons, received the help.

Thus, about 86 per cent of those certified received their food, Bycroft said.

Totals for the number of recipients at the four distribution points were:

East Liverpool Central Fire Station, 235 cases, 965 persons; Wellsville 117 cases, 493 people; Salem, 67 cases, 229 persons, and Columbiana Warehouse, 94 cases, 398 persons.

Out Of The Air

By JOHN CROSBY

Music, Music, Music For The Weekend

The air was alive with music last weekend. George Gershwin took over Friday night. Wolfgang Amadeus Mozart enriched Sunday night with his sweetness and genius. Saturday night, Gene Kelly enlivened television for a hour.

John Crosby

I found each of these separate hours a stimulating and captivating without finding any of them entirely satisfying.

To take them up in the order of their importance, Leonard Bernstein and the Philharmonic bringing us the splendors of the "divine Mozart" from Venice is one of those rare treats that this barbaric capitalist culture isn't supposed to offer its downtrodden citizens. (And, to be quite honest, we don't get such things very often.)

BERNSTEIN played and conducted the second and third movements from Mozart's "Piano Concerto in C Major," a piece of music of such elegance and warmth and power and unutterable sweetness that even non-Mozartian types are melted by it.

First, Bernstein spoke of Mozart with that sweeping facility of phrase and mastery of his subject that are his trademarks. I wish, though, he'd get over the professional interrogative.

"Why Mozart?" cries Bernstein at the opening.

Then he proceeds to answer his own question. Stylistically, this has become a bad habit and I wish he'd cut it out or at least, down.

Joseph N. Welch, who delivers what he calls a "message for Americans" in the middle of the program, suffers from the same disease. ("Why are we so interested in educating our children? Because education means leadership. Only an educated man survives in this age." And so forth.) But these are tiny flaws. Otherwise, it was an exalted hour of music and I thank CBS for bringing it to me.

THE TELEPHONE HOUR showed George Gershwin on us with a lavish but undiscriminating hand. I think I was most impressed with the early years when melodies flowed out of Gershwin like water. Some of the songs I'd never heard were "Fidgety Feet" and "You Don't Know the Half of It, Dearie, Blues." And along with these were such rousing numbers as "Clap Your Hands" and "Strike Up the Band."

Then came a whole section devoted to love — everything from "The Man I Love" to "Who Cares" with their lovely blue chords.

Polly Bergen, Vic Damone and Ella Fitzgerald sang, Andre Previn and Teddy Wilson played, and Marge and Gower Champion danced to the music.

Ira Gershwin provided a short commentary. Mostly, though, the music spoke for itself eloquently enough.

The choreography, I thought, was a little skimpy and I rather wished for one big number to pull the customers out of their chairs. But there were compensations — Andre Previn and the orchestra playing "Concerto in F," Miss Bergen singing "The Man I Love" with its piercingly simple and direct lyric (to give Ira Gershwin a bit of his due) and Miss Ella singing "Summertime."

THE GENE KELLY show started out very large and then dwindled a little as it went along.

I loved a dance duet with Carol Lawrence to "Shall We Dance?" which had great grace and charm. Even better was a duo with his old companion from "Singin' in the Rain," Donald O'Connor, who in many respects is a better dancer.

There's virtually nothing I'd rather do than watch these two get together in a lazy, relaxed and tuneful bit of hoofing.

All three of the stars — Mr. Kelly, Mr. O'Connor and Miss Lawrence — got together to do a whole vaudeville bill — magicians, mind-reading acts, comedy trios and everything but a dog act. It was great fun.

Then O'Connor engaged in a marvelous bit of virtuosity, trying to cheer up a weeping drunk, which was utterly mad and gay.

WHERE Mr. Kelly lost me was in a Spanish sequence which proved conclusively that he shouldn't attempt the gypsy bit. It was broad and he was trying too hard and somewhere the nuances all got lost.

As a final bit he and O'Connor did another tap act, this time sitting down, and won me all over again.

Altogether it was a nice weekend.

Bargaining Vote Ordered By NLRB At Ohio Concern

CINCINNATI (AP) — The National Labor Relations Board today ordered collective bargaining representative elections held Dec. 3 at the Gardner Division of the Diamond National Corp., Middletown.

Approximately 600 production and maintenance employees are eligible to vote in one election and 15 lithographic production workers will vote in the other.

Two unions want to represent them in collective bargaining. They are United Papermakers and Paperworkers, and the Diamond Gardner Employees Independent Union.

The production and maintenance workers will vote on whether to be represented by the United Papermakers and Paperworkers Union, the Diamond Gardner Employees Independent Union or by neither.

The lithographers will vote on whether to be represented by the papermakers union, the Diamond Gardner independent union, Local 8 of the Amalgamated Lithographers of America or by none of the three unions.

The Pentagon, the world's largest office building, was built at a cost of about $3 million dollars.

Ike Presses International Community

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower says "the international community needs to find more effective means to cope with and to prevent such brutal uses of force" as the Communists employed in Hungary and Tibet.

The President said he intends to renew his request to Congress to repeal a restriction on United States participation in the International Court of Justice, or World Court.

At present this country reserves the right to decide whether an international issue falls within the World Court's jurisdiction. No case involving the United States can be taken before the World Court without this country's approval. Other countries also reserve this right.

"Elimination of this automatic reservation from our own declaration accepting compulsory jurisdiction would place the United States in a better position to urge other countries to agree to wider jurisdiction of the International Court of Justice," Eisenhower said.

The President's views were expressed in a letter to Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey (D-Minn.), chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations subcommittee on Disarmament. The Eisenhower letter, in reply to one from Humphrey, was dated at Augusta, Ga., Nov. 17. Humphrey made it public Thursday.

Funeral Concern Marks 78th Year

The MacLean Funeral Home of Wellsville today marked the 78th anniversary of its first burial exercises.

The home, first known as MacLean Brothers, Funeral Directors, was established in 1881 by Daniel N. MacLean and Phillip A. MacLean on Broadway.

Phillip MacLean died in 1918 and Daniel purchased his interests and operated the business until his death Feb. 2, 1930. The business then was known as MacLean Funeral Parlor and was located on Main St. until 1937.

Following the death of Daniel, the business was taken over by two sons, Wilbur L. MacLean and Donald Norman MacLean and in July 1937 the operations were transferred to the present home on Riverside Ave.

Industry Attacks Statement Smoking Cited Main Cause For Rising Lung Cancer

By GEOFFREY GOULD
WASHINGTON (AP) — The Public Health Service has issued a strong new warning on tobacco: The weight of evidence implicates smoking as the main cause of the rising rate of lung cancer.

The statement was issued Thursday by Surgeon General Leroy E. Burney in an article in the Journal of the American Medical Assn. It was the government's strongest statement to date linking smoking and cancer. Burney said it was based partly on new evidence.

Burney's warning immediately was attacked by tobacco interests as a warmed over rehash of old statistics.

Dr. C. C. Little, scientific director of the Tobacco Industry Research Committee, said in New York the points in Burney's article were "first advanced some years ago in statistical studies that admittedly are not supported by experimental evidence."

At Appomattox, Va., Rep. Watkins Abbit (D-Va.), who represents a major tobacco growing district, said, "It is shocking that a supposedly responsible government official would castigate the entire tobacco industry on such flimsy statistical evidence."

Burney's article took note of frequent criticism of the evidence linking smoking and lung cancer. He cited Little's previous criticisms specifically.

But Burney noted that by law the Public Health Service must tell the medical profession and the public about anything affecting public health. After reviewing the presently available evidence in detail, he said, "The Public Health Service believes that the following statements are justified by studies to date:

"1. The weight of evidence at present implicates smoking as the principal etiological (causative) factor in the increased incidence of lung cancer.

"2. Cigarette smoking particularly is associated with an increased chance of developing lung cancer.

"3. Stopping cigarette smoking even after long exposure is beneficial.

"4. No method of treating tobacco or filtering the smoke has been demonstrated to be effective in materially reducing or eliminating the hazard of lung cancer.

"5. The nonsmoker has a lower incidence of lung cancer than the smoker in all controlled studies, whether analyzed in terms of rural areas, urban regions, industrial occupations, or sex.

"6. Persons who have never smoked at all (cigarettes, cigars, or pipe) have the best chance of escaping lung cancer.

"7. Unless the use of tobacco can be made safe, the individual person's risk of lung cancer can best be reduced by the elimination of smoking."

Burney said recent scientific studies also point to air pollution—from car exhausts, industrial smog and so on — as additional causative factors in rising lung cancer.

Man Amputates Finger With Hand Caught In Picker
MILWAUKEE, (AP) — A 38-year-old farmer of Oak Creek was recovering in a Milwaukee hospital today after amputating one of his fingers with a pocket knife.

George Schubert was operating a corn picker when his right hand got caught in it Wednesday. The thumb was sliced off and the index finger cut partially through.

"I knew I couldn't tear loose," Schubert said. "I was too far from anywhere to expect to get help before I'd bleed to death."

Schubert's knife was in a pocket on his right side, but he was able to reach it with his left hand. He got the knife opened and cut off the rest of the right index finger.

Part of his left index finger is missing. It was cut off in an onion slicer 12 years ago.

West Virginia Wrecks Kill 3

By The Associated Press
Two college students and a middle-aged man were killed in accidents in West Virginia on Thanksgiving.

A head-on wreck on U. S. 60 not far east from Charleston brought about the deaths of the students and the injury of six others. State Police said that one of the cars left its lane and jumped the traffic island.

Miss Nova Goins, 20, of Charleston and Lorenzo Alphonso Parks Jr., 22, of Lynchburg, Va., were the two killed. She was going to West Virginia State College; he, to Purdue University.

Laird Memorial Hospital said the others, students at either Purdue or State, were improving.

The other fatal accident in the state yesterday happened at W. Va. 79 about 15 miles southeast of Madison, the Boone County seat.

Robert Allen Hartman, 59, of Barrett, a nearby locality, was killed when his car missed a curve and went into a small stream.

Live Stock Show Opens In Chicago

CHICAGO (AP)—The International Live Stock Exposition, annual high point for the nation's livestock producing industry, swung into action today with more than 10,000 head of cattle, horses, sheep and swine competing for coveted awards.

Exhibitors from 32 states and three Canadian provinces have brought their finest stock to the exposition to vie for more than $130,000 in cash and blue and purple ribbons.

Billed as the nation's biggest farm show, the exposition—in its 69th year—is combined this year with the International Dairy Show, in its seventh year, bringing beef and dairy cattle together for the first time at the Chicago event.

In addition to livestock competition, 4-H Club youths and college teams from throughout the country will compete in livestock and meat judging contests during the nine-day exposition.

The national 4-H Club livestock judging competition was in progress today with 29 teams participating.

Saturday's agenda includes the junior livestock feeding contest in which more than 300 boy and girl exhibitors 12 to 21 years of age will compete for the grand champion steer award of the junior show. The winner is eligible to compete in the open classes for the exposition's most coveted award of grand champion steer of the show.

Flying Grandpa Sets Record Flight From Africa To Texas

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP)—Flying Grandpa Max Conrad took a well deserved rest in this desert resort today after flying a light plane to a non-stop distance record from North Africa to Texas.

Conrad, 56, landed Thursday at El Paso—6,911 miles from Casablanca, where he coaxed his gas-heavy Piper Comanche into the air more than two days before.

The 56-hour 26-minute flight in the little blue and white monoplane was a record for planes weighing under 3,900 pounds.

Then, after a bottle of pop and a walk to shake out the kinks, Conrad climbed back into his plane and took off again this time for his home in San Francisco. He landed shortly before sundown at Las Vegas.

Conrad flew the same plane in which he set a 7,668-mile record for heavier aircraft last year from North Africa to Los Angeles. On this flight, he replaced the Comanche's six-cylinder engine with a four-cylinder model and put it in a lighter class.

In El Paso, a lean and thirty Conrad swung his long legs out of the cramped cockpit and told waiting reporters the story of his record-shattering hop.

He took off from Casablanca with 360 gallons of gas and three vacuum-sealed containers of coffee, tea and water, but no food. During daylight hours, he flew at 100 feet or less and went up to 150 feet at night.

He leaned the throttle back to save gas and flew at about 130 miles an hour most of the way. The weather? Near perfect, as he skimmed across the Atlantic and parts of two continents. He ran into 30-mile an hour headwinds in the Caribbean between Cuba and Haiti, but soon outran the adverse weather.

Payola Turns To Cincinnati

CINCINNATI (AP) — Payola has been offered to Cincinnati disc jockeys—to one as recently as two weeks ago.

But a dozen DJ's polled this week denied unanimously ever having taken it.

Jack Reynolds, chief announcer for WSAI and a 12-year veteran of radio, said he had turned down a payola offer from a friend with a New York City record company early this month.

"He called and said we will pay you $100 a month with no stipulation as to what records to play," Reynolds said. "When they had a record they wanted promoted, they would let me know."

"This was an agent for a 'semi-big' label. Not one of the big four (Columbia, Victor, Capitol, Decca), but not one of the fly-by-night rock 'n' roll labels either."

"I said no and reported the incident to the station management."

"It is a moral question with me. . . . When you take payola, you are prostituting yourself and the rest of the staff of your station."

The DJ's polled here differed on the ethics of payola. Some, like Reynolds, said it was a "prostitution" of their business. Others said in effect: Every business does the same thing. Why pick on disc jockeys?

Leo Underhill, in his 12th year at WKCY, said "I've never taken any money to play a record. I would rather work in a position of freedom."

"However, I don't think it is any great shame or disgrace. There is no moral wrong in it than in a purchasing agent for a big company accepting gifts to look kindly on certain sellers, or a headwaiter taking a $10 bill to get you a table down front."

Will Lenay, WKCY: "I've been approached. . . . I turned him down because I want to have the choice of records I play on my program. I have always made a lot of money in radio and don't have to prostitute myself by taking payola."

Lenay owns 70 per cent of the Lud Music Corp., a sing-publishing outfit. He said:

"I don't necessarily play records of songs published by my company."

Cecil Hale, WZIP, in radio since 1928:

"As far as the morality of taking payola, I do not set myself up as a judge of any other person's actions. . . . Although I have been offered payola I have not accepted it, because the man who pays the piper calls the tune, and when you accept payola, to that extent you accept control of your program."

"When they investigate disc jockeys they should investigate radio station management too, from program directors on up. Often where the selection of records is a function of management, management gets the payola."

Bob Braun, WLW: "Once, about a year ago, a fellow was in town representing a small-label record company. He said he was in town to make deals, and how much would it cost to get his records played on my show?"

"I told him neither he nor the whole record industry has enough money to get a record on my program if it doesn't fit the program."

Myles Foland, WCIP: "I feel

BACK TO NORMAL. Molly, a 7-week-old beagle pup owned by Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Anderson of Fort Worth, Tex., is virtually back to normal, romping and playing as if nothing had happened. At the left, however, is how she looked at an animal hospital after her head started to swell. The Andersons thought the dog was ill from some sort of a bite until a neighbor boy asked for his rubber band back. He had put the rubber band around the pup's neck earlier causing his head to swell. (UPI Telephoto) very insulted, because I have never been approached in my 25 years in radio! I get paid enough here, so that I wouldn't jeopardize my position by taking payola if I were offered it. Why endanger a $12,000 to $14,000 a year job?"

Larry Brunner, WCPO: "I've never been approached. . . . I think payola is wrong and very certainly a moral issue. I can't see why a record that is not good should be pushed over one that is good just because some guy gets money to play it."

C. K. Elston, WZIP: "I've never been approached. I don't think payola is drastically wrong or immoral. Is it any different from selling time? If I were offered it today, of course, I'd turn it down. But frankly—six months ago if somebody had offered me money to play a certain song, I think I would have gone to the front of the line about it, and if they had said OK I would probably have taken it."

Bill Albert, WLW: "Nobody ever made me a payola offer. . . . I wouldn't want to take payola. It would be like taking graft."

Dick Provost, WCPO: "I've never been approached in my 13 years in radio and TV."

Jack Remington, WKRC: "I never had a payola offer. If I did, I think I would be afraid to mess with it—not because of any particular purity, but sooner or later it would come out. I don't think I would make it a matter of morality. Kickbacks and other forms of payola go on in every business known to man."

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: Do you believe in fate? Well I do—now that letter in your column on weddings being forced upon expecting couples helped us greatly.

Your words "an unwilling groom makes a poor husband" made a lot of sense. When we showed it to our daughter she said, "Ann's right. I know in my heart Nick doesn't want to marry me. That settles it."

You'll never know what a favor you did us, Ann Landers. For the first time in months there is peace and contentment in our home. The baby will be put up for adoption through an agency and our daughter will start life over in another city. God Bless You.—GRATEFUL FOLKS.

Dear Ann: Are you tetchy in the head or what. How can you advise a young girl to have a baby out of wedlock?

Whether or not the parents are madly in love is of little importance when a baby is on the way. Your advice in this case "stank."

—ALABAMA READER.

Dear Ann: Good for you. I had a shotgun wedding and I've wished a million times since that the gun had been pointed at me, not him, and that someone had pulled the trigger.

I knew Jack didn't want to marry me but my parents insisted. My mother kept harping, "Every child is entitled to a name. Nothing else counts now."

I was only 17, a nervous little girl, ignorant and scared. I thought mama knew best. Besides I had brought so much shame on the family I couldn't hold up my head—much less give them an argument.

I've been miserable for 10 long years. I know now I would have been much better off to face the situation alone. Jack has never been a husband or a father and I'm going it alone anyway.—ANNA.

Dear Ann: You ought to be tarred and feathered. The idea, advising an expectant mother not to marry! After I read that advice I got my bifocals out to make sure my eyes hadn't played tricks on me.

Romantic love is just a lot of nonsense anyway. No matter why people get married, the romance doesn't last beyond a few months at best.

As one wit put it, "Marriage is the Keely cure for the intoxication known as love."

So, they might as well get married to give a child a legal name. It's a better reason than most.—XPERT SAL.

Dear Ann: I was one of those foolish girls who let my folks push me into marriage because I had a baby at 17. My boy friend told me if he was forced to marry he'd make me sorry. He's kept his word.

He has told our son, who is now 9, that he had to marry me and has warned the boy against getting mixed up with women like his mother. The poor child is too young to know what he's talking about but he'll know some day.

I've had to work since the boy was 5 weeks old because my husband says his money belongs to him. Divorce is against our religion. My life is ruined and I'm only 28.

Your advice is excellent but it came too late for me.—MISERABLE.

TO ALL WHO WROTE ON THIS SUBJECT: The mail has been running 35-1 in favor of not forcing a marriage. Everyone who wrote has had first-hand experience. Thank you all for letting me know how it looks from inside the lodge. Your letters are deeply appreciated.—ANN LANDERS.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Panama Told Not To Plant Flag By Force

PANAMA (AP)—President Ernesto de la guardia Jr. warned his people Thursday night against attempting to plant the Panamanian flag in the U.S.-controlled Canal Zone by stealth or by force.

Such action, he declared, would only defeat Panama's fight for recognition of its right to fly the flag in the zone as a symbol of its sovereignty over the area.

The President made a nationwide radio appeal to stave off violence during a demonstration called by students Saturday to reassert Panama's sovereignty over the Canal Zone on the anniversary of independence from Spain.

Organizers of the demonstration in front of the Foreign Office also called for it to be peaceful and orderly. But there were fears that demonstrators might seek to enter the Canal Zone with flags, causing a repetition of the Nov. 3 clashes between Panamanians and American troops and police in which 80 persons were injured.

East Junior High Has Music Event For Thanksgiving

A Thanksgiving musical, "Spirit of the USA," was presented Wednesday afternoon at East Junior High School.

The production was directed by Miss Burdene Bowman, choir director; Vincent Maola, band director, and James Martin, English instructor. A painting of Independence Hall, which provided the backdrop for the show, was done by Miss Jean VanDyne, another instructor.

The musical centered around the month of November with its patriotic thoughts of Veterans Day and the birth of our country with the Thanksgiving celebration.

Featured in the musical were Evajane Canon, Tom Kraft and John Sparks. Indian dances were performed by seventh grade boys and the eighth grade choir, accompanied by the eighth and ninth grade band, sang "Ring Liberty Bell" and "Whistling Johnny Patrol."

The program ended with the band, choir and student body joining in the national anthem.

Fourth Is Nabbed In Guard Slaying

JOHNSON CITY, Tenn. (AP)—A dozen police officers waited outside a hotel room until an escaped convict walked out wearing the hat and pistol of a work gang guard slain in North Carolina.

Local, federal and state officers had hoped to catch two of five fugitives who had fled a work gang just over the state line near Jefferson, N.C. Monday.

They caught only John W. Burgess Jr., 33. He offered no resistance Thursday. Officers had hoped another escapee, James T. Waller, 35, would show up.

Burgess told the officers he had separated from Waller at Princeton, W. Va. The other three fugitives had been captured near Jackson, Ohio.

They are accused of shooting Fields Absher, 55, in escaping from the North Carolina work gang.

The piano is the largest musical percussion instrument.

Food For Thought . . .

The 1959 football season is over as far as the district high schools are concerned, but before it fades completely out of the picture we would like to mention a few problems that are being studied by Ohio coaches.

East Liverpool coach Lou Venditti conducted a question-and-answer period during a recent meeting of coaches from Northeastern Ohio in Canton.

Close to 75 filled out the questionnaires and Venditti compiled the answers.

The questions asked included: (1) Would you prefer the return to spring football? (2) Would you be in favor of returning to fall football camps? (3) Do you believe a boy scheduled for study hall in his last period of the school day should be excused for football practice? and (4) Do you favor exchanging game films?

The majority of coaches favored all four issues. Thirty-nine voted in favor of spring football and 24 against and 42 in favor of fall football camps and 29 against.

Sixty coaches believed that athletes should be excused from the last period of the day to practice, while only 4 opposed.

There were 45 out of 60 voting who favored exchanging movies between schools.

Venditti was in favor of each issue, especially the fall football camp. The Ohio High School Athletic Association ruled out all camps after 1955.

That was the last year the Pottery went to camp at Waynesburg (Pa.) College. Venditti said that the football camp "made the 1955 football team the undefeated squad that it was."

If schools would exchange films the cost of scouting would be cut down. Colleges already have started the practice.

Some of the questions may become rules before next season.

Crucial Contest Comes Early . . .

WE WOULDN'T be too far wrong by saying that one of the best contests of the season will be played opening night on the district basketball front.

Wellsville and Midland, being considered as two of the powerhouses in the area this season, meet head-on in the first game Tuesday night.

The contest, a natural for the occasion at hand, will see Midland opening its new gymnasium for its first full season. And from the interest in both spots, the new basketball plant should be filled to near capacity, which is about 1,800. Both teams have more potential this season than they have had in several years.

The contest will see a battle between Bob Kiggins, who should have his best season of his high school career, and big Movie Smith, Midland's leading scorer last year.

If we were asked to pick a winner, the edge would go to Midland, with the home floor providing the only advantage.

Pont has won two Mid-American conference championships in the last four years with the Redskins. Coach Earl Biederman of Toronto played football at Miami before coming to the Jefferson County school.

Texas, Syracuse To Meet In Cotton Bowl

Longhorns Nip Aggies To Gain Classic

By JACK CLARY

Associated Press Sports Writer Texas, after squeaking by so-so Texas A&M Thursday, is no longer worried about a spot in the Cotton Bowl. No siree, all the Longhorns have to worry about now is how to stop Syracuse, top-ranked in everything, when the two meet New Years Day.

Texas put on a tremendous second-half spurt to overcome a 10-0 Texas A&M lead for a 20-17 victory and a tie for the Southwest Conference title with Arkansas.

Sportsmen's Club Postpones Allen Fete

The testimonial dinner for Bernie Allen Saturday night has been postponed, John Melvin, chairman of the banquet announced today. "Due to unforeseen circumstances we have decided to postpone the dinner to a later date," Melvin said. The dinner was to be sponsored by the newly-formed East Liverpool Sportsmen's Club.

The Longhorns got the Cotton Bowl spot since they had beaten Arkansas earlier in the season.

Texas Christian is still in the SWC picture but they were in the Cotton Bowl since Texas' last trip and thus can't qualify.

The Longhorns' victory was the highlight of one of the wildest Thanksgiving Day football programs in years. Virginia Military upset Virginia Tech 37-12 to win the Southern Conference title. Penn took the Ivy League crown with a 28-13 comeback over Cornell. Wichita prevented Tulsa from moving into a three-way tie for the Missouri Valley title with a 26-21 victory, and North Carolina finally hit its potential with a 50-0 victory over bitter rival Duke.

The Longhorns, ranked fourth in the current Associated Press poll, showed the jitters they've had since a Nov. 14 upset by Texas Christian obliterated an undefeated season and their conference leadership.

That defeat came shortly after Syracuse, top-ranked nationally in total offense, defense, rushing defense, scoring and the nation's No. 1 team, had announced it accepted a Cotton Bowl bid to meet — at the time — undefeated Texas. The Orange now 9-0 and the only major undefeated team, still must play UCLA Dec. 5.

The Aggies' little Randy Sims took a scoring pass from quarterback Charley Milstead, and kicked a conference record-tying 53-yard field goal for AIM's 10-0 first half lead. But Texas, led by quarterback Bobby Lackey and halfback Mike Dowdle, who scored two touchdowns, sneaked through. Lackey scored the clincher on a 1-yard plunge after A&M had taken a 17-13 lead in the last period.

Quarterback Howard Dyer passed for three touchdowns to pace VMI, which killed Virginia Tech's vaunted aerial game with six pass interceptions.

George Koval once more came to Penn's rescue as the second-string quarterback fired three touchdown passes to bring the Quakers from a 13-7 deficit to its first Ivy League title since 1952, and Coach Steve Sebo's finest (7-1) — and maybe last — season at Penn.

Ted Dean's two touchdowns and Dick Young's passing paced Wichita. Young completed six of 11 throws for 96 yards.

Underdog North Carolina hung the worst defeat ever on Duke as fullback Don Knochak, demoted to the scrubs earlier in the season, scored two touchdowns, one a 93-yard kickoff return.

In other games Thanksgiving Day: Colgate 33, Brown 14; Richmond 20, William & Mary 12; Cincinnati 45, Denver 7; Wyoming 48, Houston 9; Washington State 32, Denver 18.

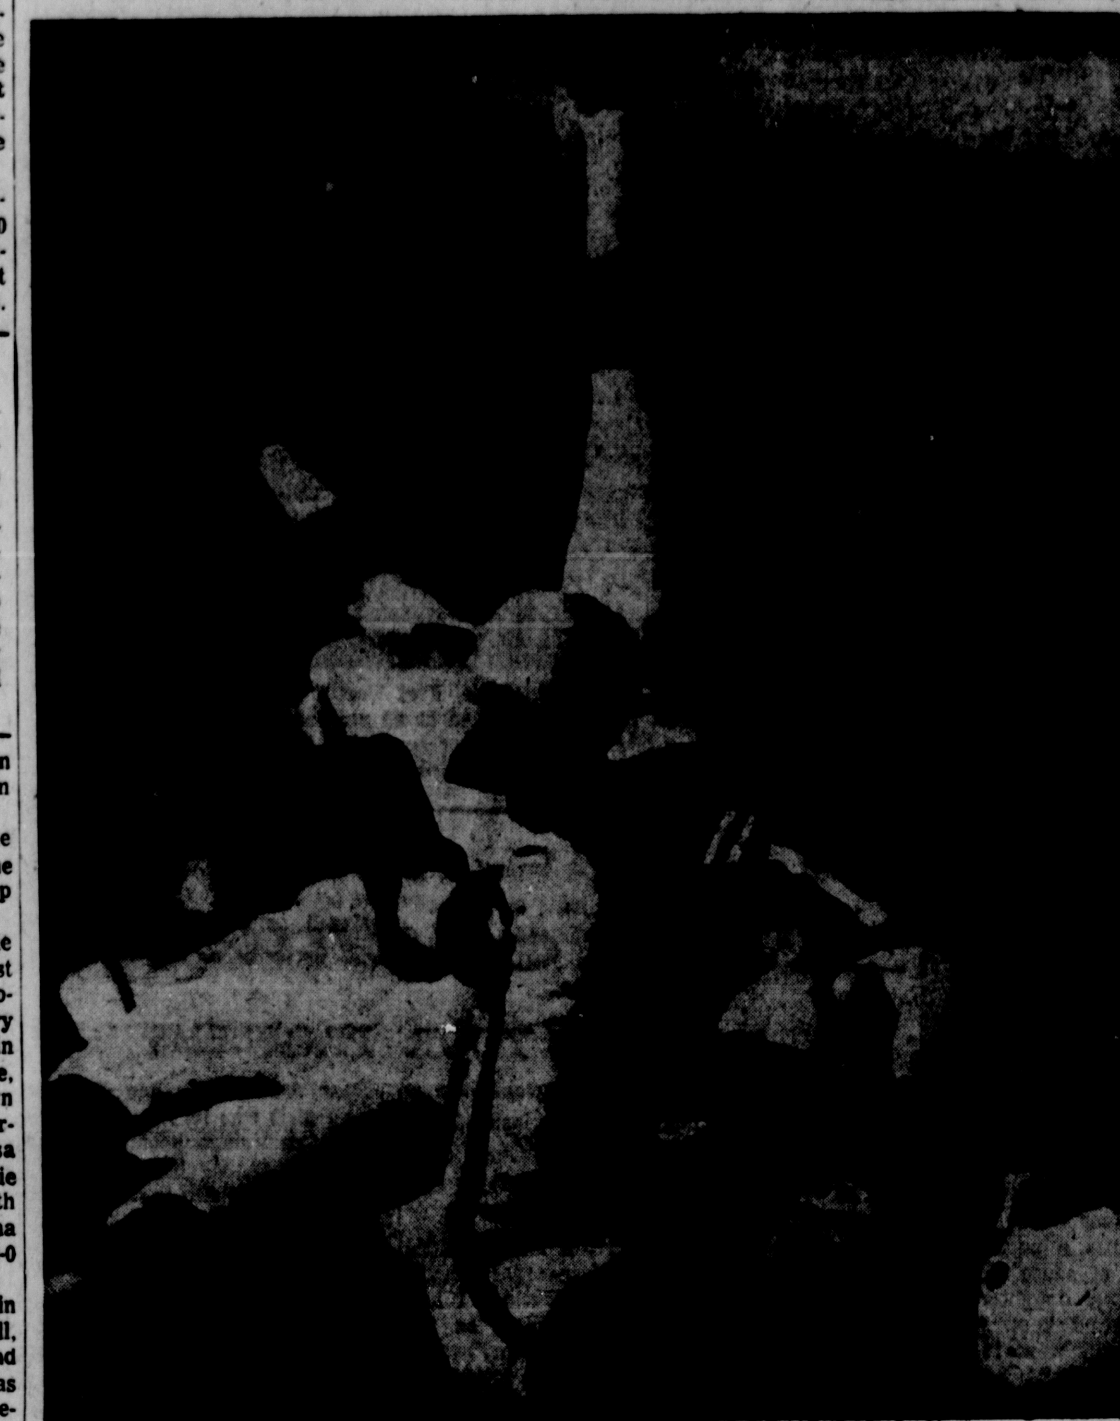

Saturday marks the traditional windup of the season with the big Army-Navy classic in Philadelphia before over 100,000 spectators and millions more over national television — NBC-TV, 1:30 p.m. Eastern Standard Time.

3 Ohio Players Cited

RICHMOND, Va. (AP)—Three Ohioans were named today to The Associated Press' 1959 All-Southern Conference football team. All placed on the first eleven, they are Citadel end Paul Maguire of Youngstown, William & Mary tackle Mike Lashley of Columbus, and Virginia Tech guard Mike Zeno of Akron.

Army, Navy Meet 60th Time

100,000 Fans Expected To Watch Service Game

By RALPH BERNSTEIN

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—For the first time in many years it appears the pageantry, not the football, is luring some 100,000 fans into Philadelphia Stadium for Saturday's 60th meeting of Army and Navy.

In recent seasons this traditional clash of cadets and midshipmen has had an important bearing on the national or sectional football picture. Several times, a victory meant a bowl bid for Navy. Last year Army assured itself of Eastern football honors with a 22-6 win.

Such has been the picture—color, excitement and prestige.

But not this year. The cadets and midships have naught at stake but personal pride.

Army's 4-3-1 record is the worst for the cadets since the years of the cribbing scandal. In 1951, the cadets won 2 and lost 7. The following year, as former coach Earl Blaik rebuilt his shattered forces, the mark was 4-4-1. Both years Navy won the service game.

As for the middies (4-4-1), you have to go back to 1951 for a poorer Navy record. That year Navy brought a 2-6-1 slate into the Army game, but laced the decimated West Pointers 42-7. Two years later, with a 4-3-3 log, Navy won the Army game 20-7.

However, those making the trip to South Philadelphia to see the cadets and midships parade, for a glimpse of some celebrities, for the social prestige, just might see a darn good football game.

Both teams are believed better than their records. Injuries have hurt the middies and cadets this frustrating season. If the lame and the halt are ready, the big crowd also may be treated to a thrilling contest.

Fans Can Order Season Cane Tickets Monday

Wilt Scores 49 Points As Warriors Trip Celts

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Tower-ing Wilt Chamberlain has reached another milestone in his thus far sensational National Basketball Assn. career.

The Philadelphia Warriors' 7-1 star broke a Convention Hall record for individual scoring Thursday night by dumping in 49 points to boost his club to a 143-130 victory over Boston, trimming the Celtics' Eastern division lead to one game. The Warriors' total points also established a new club record.

In other games the St. Louis Hawks defeated Syracuse 112-95 to move into first place in the Western division by a half game over Detroit, and Cincinnati swept by Minneapolis 114-95.

Chamberlain, whose 43 rebounds against New York Nov. 11 set a new Convention Hall record in that department, wiped out the 1956 hall scoring mark of 46 by Bob Pettit of St. Louis. Chamberlain's highest output this season was 55 points on the road Nov. 12 against Cincinnati.

A record 12,343 fans came to watch Chamberlain hook up with 6-10 Bill Russell but were somewhat disappointed when Russell had to sit the game out because of a recurrence of an ankle injury.

Conley led Boston scoring with 24 points.

Oddities Were At A Dime A Dozen On Ohio's Gridirons During 1959

By FRITZ HOWELL
Associated Press Sports Writer
COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Oddities were a dime a dozen on Ohio's scholastic gridirons this fall — along with the long runs, setups and upsets.

Among the hilarious incidents: Marion Harding, fourth-placer in the state, outscored its nine foes by 250 points, and Coach Pete Riesen came up with one explanation of the defensive strength. Said Pete:

"Twice we sent in a lineman with instructions to our defensive team. He stayed in, and no one came out. Result—a real tough defense and one five-yard penalty."

John Santillo's Lowellville team was penalized five yards for off-side in one game, and when John asked the official to point out the offender, the arbiter said "it was your center!"

"How can the center be off-side?" Santillo asked. The official said "his finger was on the far side of the ball when he centered it."

Martins Ferry, with its first unbeaten-undefeated team in two decades, came up with some screwy ones, too. When the Purple Riders handed St. Clairsville its only loss, the Lions, playing give-away while the opposition plays football, made it seven defeats against only two victories and a tie Thursday by dropping their annual Thanksgiving Day contest to the Green Bay Packers 24-17.

The Lions fumbled themselves into three Green Bay scores before 49,221 of the faithful and hearty and a nationwide television audience that saw all the scoring, and most of the excitement, crammed into the first half.

This was the ninth game in the holiday series and the first time in a dozen seasons the Packers have scored a season sweep. They beat the Lions earlier this year in Green Bay 28-10.

This time, they had so much help from the Lions they could hardly miss.

The Lions moved in front 3-0 on Jerry Perry's 22-yard field goal that followed a Green Bay fumble on the opening kickoff. The Packers drove 65 yards in six plays for one score, got another 95 seconds later following a Detroit fumble, added a field goal and led 17-3 before the Thanksgiving stay-at-homeers started to work on the second drumstick.

The Lions fumbled again in the second period and the Packers promptly moved 49 yards in eight plays for a 24-3 lead.

Two long drives got the long-suffering Detroit club back into contention but it lacked the stuff to keep its offense rolling. Two late interceptions killed off hopes for a deadlock.

Jeagerard was a member of the pick-up air force team which lost to the Soviets in the 1959 world championships in Chile and of the Peoria Cats, who whipped the Russians six straight on their home soil a year ago.

"It's practically the same team," said the former Colorado ace. "They have improved in their dribbling and shooting but I can't see them threatening our best in the Olympics."

The Russians presented a hard driving team that looked well in spots. They fought back from a 40-25 deficit at halftime to within three points, 56-53, with six minutes to play. They were deadly ball hawks from the start and repeatedly beat the Americans off the boards in their second half spurt.

But, unlike the Americans, they disdained shooting from outside the free throw line, preferring to drive through the Oklahoma's defense. They connected on only 19 of 36 free throw attempts while the Americans made good on 20 of 29.

Richmond, Va. — Virginia Tech's Gobblers, who struck the blow that ended West Virginia's 30-game reign of terror in Southern Conference football, were rewarded today with three positions on the 1959 all-conference team.

End Carroll Dale, halfback Alger Pugh and guard Mike Zeno, the most obvious reasons Tech snapped the Mountaineers' eight-year victory streak inside the league two weeks ago, were the Techmen honored.

All told, seven of the nine conference teams were represented on the all-star squad chosen by the Associated Press, after voting among conference coaches, newspaper sports writers and radio-TV sportscasters.

Virginia Military Institute and Richmond each landed two players in the all-conference lineup.

Martins Ferry even had a claim on the losers' homecoming queen. She was Nancy Lucas, born in Martins Ferry, where her dad, Art Lucas, was once a Rider standout.

When the Ferry booster club raffled off a football, it was won by Dick Matesic, former Pitt half-back. And he's the dad of Dick Matesic, the Rider quarterback, on whose birthday the raffle was held.

Even the bands got into the act. The Weirton, W. Va., tooters are headed for the Rose Bowl, and when the team played at Martins Ferry the visitors asked an extra two and a half minutes for their half-time show. Ferry refused, and the Weirton band stayed home, a bit miffed. Then it rained so hard the field became a quagmire, and even the Ferry band couldn't perform.

Over at Toronto, Coach Earl Biederman figures the biggest oddity was that his team had an 8-1 record, losing only to highly-ranked East Liverpool, with a "Seven Dwarf" line which averaged only 152 pounds. Marietta, sixth in the poll, also thought it rather odd the team won nine in a row after compiling records of 1-8, 1-7, 5-4, 1-8 and 6-4 the previous five years.

East Liverpool and Steubenville Central Catholic played a "mud bowl" game under the worst conditions. Liverpool's Lou Venditti has seen in a quarter-century, but punters for both teams ignored the slippery and gooey going and turned in top performances.

Not so, on a good field, was Dayton Stivers' experience against Mansfield Madison. Three times the Stivers center failed to get the ball back to punter Bruce Gordon, and nary a kick got away. The fourth time Stivers solved (?) the problem. The center snapped the ball to one side, to quarterback Jim Calondis, who turned to shovel-pass the ball to the kicker. Calondis promptly tossed it over Gordon's head, and Stivers lost more ground than on the previous three combined. Madison won 52-0.

Cleveland St. Ignatius was playing Cleveland West, had plenty of points, and Coach John Wirtz decided to hold the score down. Ignatius had the ball, first down, on West's 15-yard line, but John told Bill Scopol to punt. He did, kicking out on the five for a 10-yard gain. The field announcer told the crowd Bill had just missed a drop kick.

West got the ball back to the 10, tumbled, and Wirtz told Scopol to punt on first down again. This time Bill tried a drop kick, which was blocked.

"When he came out," Wirtz said, "I asked him why he dropped-kicked when he had never tried one before, even in practice. He said he heard the field announcer say he tried a drop kick the first time, and he got to thinking that maybe I wanted him to dropkick and he didn't hear me."

Then, there's the other side—heroic, not humorous.

On Oct. 1, a year ago, four Louisville players were driving home from practice when their car was struck by a train. One boy was killed. Two were hospitalized. One of the injured was Gene Conner, with a ruptured spleen and multiple fractures of the pelvis.

Doctors said it was doubtful he'd ever walk again.

He not only walked, he ran! Gene scored 23 touchdowns for 138 points this year to lead Stark County in scoring—a county which includes such teams as Massillon's 1959 champions, Alliance's 1958 kings, two-time state title-holder Canton McKinley, and a host of others.

Of his feats, Gene says: "I guess I'm just pretty lucky."

Cincinnati Nips Miami, 14-7, In Annual Contest

CINCINNATI (AP)—The yelps have been stilled somewhat from the wolves on the trail of University of Cincinnati football coach George Blackburn.

And so have the complaints from some sources that the Bearcats were prone to fold up in the last half of their games.

It all came about Thursday when the Bearcats eked out a 14-7 victory over Miami in the annual Thanksgiving Day game that ended the Ohio collegiate football season. Beating old rival Miami gave Cincinnati a 5-4-1 record for the season. Miami finished at 5-4.

Admittedly, the Bearcats benefitted handsomely from two Miami miscues that led to touchdowns but they still pay off on the final score. And in the dying minutes Cincinnati held Miami for four downs inside the U.C. five-yard line.

In several games this fall, notably against Houston and Marquette, Cincinnati blew leads during the second half. But they held the Redskins to only 51 yards in the final two quarters and most of those came in Miami's final drive that fell short.

Miami's only touchdown came in the second period at the end of a 78-yard march. A 27-yard pass from Tom Kilmurray to Jerry Nowell got the score.

An interference penalty on a 50-yard pass from Jack Lee to Ed Kovac was the first break for Cincinnati. Kovac promptly scored from the 2 and Miami's lead was whittled to 7-6.

In the third period Miami had to punt but the pass from center sailed over Joe Griffith. All Griffith could do was grab the ball and try to run with it. He got only as far as his 19 where Cincinnati took over.

The Bearcats scored in six plays with Fred Oblak getting the touchdown.

The victory was Cincinnati's 28th in the series that started in 1888. Miami has won 30 and there have been 6 ties.

Six Honored By NAIA Unit

KANSAS CITY (AP)—Six coaches and former coaches averaging more than 30 years experience were named today to the football hall of fame of the National Assn. of Intercollegiate Athletics.

In addition the NAIA named three players to its 1959 list. The selectees will be honored at the annual hall of fame dinner in St. Petersburg, Fla., Dec. 18.

The three former coaches named as contributors to the sport were Robert Earl Bowles, William Jewell (Mo.) college; Howard Hancock, Illinois State Normal; and Alfred Nash Higgins, Tampa (Fla.) University.

Honored for present day coaching were Joseph Allet, Louisiana Polytechnic College; Dale Hamilton, Central Oklahoma State and Volney Ashford, Missouri Valley.

Players named are Norbert Hecker, formerly of Baldwin-Wallace; the late Raymond Vincent Borleske, formerly of Whitman College and Clarence Stasavich, former player and now coach at Lenoir Rhyne.

Russian Cagers Better But No Serious Threat

NEW YORK (AP)—Russian basketball is improving but it still has not reached the stage where the United States needs worry too seriously about superiority in the Olympics.

That was the word from Bob Jeagerard, veteran member of the Bartlesville, Okla., National Industrial League team which spoiled the Soviet's debut in the United States Thursday night with a 70-59 victory at Madison Square Garden.

Jeagerard was a member of the pick-up air force team which lost to the Soviets in the 1959 world championships in Chile and of the Peoria Cats, who whipped the Russians six straight on their home soil a year ago.

"It's practically the same team," said the former Colorado ace. "They have improved in their dribbling and shooting but I can't see them threatening our best in the Olympics."

West Virginia Playoff Game Ends In Tie

BUCKLEY — Mullens and Mount Hope went into the Class AA playoff rated the No. 1 and No. 2 teams and came out co-champions. Their tough defenses and a muddy field held the score to 0-0.

The game played here on Thanksgiving Day was the last to decide this year's state high school football championships. The other two playoffs while not ending in ties like this one, were close. Bluefield beat Parkersburg 19-13 at Charleston last Saturday to take the Class AAA title. A week earlier, Ravenswood became the Class A champion by edging past Winfield 15-13.

Mullens looked as if it might repeat its regular season defeat of Mount Hope when it reached the three-yard line in the fourth quarter yesterday.

The team had driven on its own 34 on ground plays. With fourth down and goal to go, a pass was tried. Quarterback Charlie Stump lobbed one into the end zone meant for end Merlin Brown. Brown couldn't quite get his hands on the ball, and Mount Hope took over.

A pass figured in Mount Hope's biggest threat, which came in the second quarter. Taking a punt on its own 47, it moved down to the 14, thanks principally to Jerry Collier's throw to end Jim Wills good for 25 yards. Then the big Mullens line held.

Right at the end of the first half, Mount Hope was back to as far as the Mullens' 26. Sam Warwick threw a pass for what was intended as the scoring play, but Gene Spadaron couldn't hold onto the ball.

The steady downpour, which kept the crowd down to 2,000, added to the hazards of passing, but Mount Hope nonetheless threw 11. Just two completions netted it 43 yards.

Engle Unable To Speak At East Palestine

East Palestine school officials were advised today by Rip Engle, Penn State grid coach, he will be unable to be at the school's football banquet Dec. 7 because the Penn State team will be playing in the Liberty Bowl at Philadelphia.

Engle said he will have to leave for Philadelphia Dec. 5. Howard Weyers, Palestine coach, said arrangements will be made to obtain another speaker or a different date.

Jay Robinson, Ex-Top Actor, Hollywood's 'Forgotten Man'

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Hollywood's forgotten man sat on the bare floor of his big, empty mansion. Jay Robinson was alone with the posters of his past.

Not long ago filmland called him a genius.

He made $3,000 a week then. Friends and rich furnishings filled the house. There was laughter and music.

His life may well have rivalled that of the Emperor Caligula, whom he played in "The Robe." He was also a featured actor in "Demetrius."

But on Thanksgiving Day, at 29, he was left with memories.

Last June he was convicted of sale and possession of narcotics. He insists he was innocent and has appealed the case.

"But since I haven't been able to get work," he said.

His Thanksgiving guests dropped in by accident. A telephone operator said he dialed her Thursday, then stopped talking in mid-sentence. She called police and firemen.

They found the great rooms empty except for a box springs and mattress on a bedroom floor.

A lamp stood beside the mattress, a bath towel for a shade.

He has been selling his furniture.

"I sold the last thing yesterday, a bedspread," he said.

He pulled a few bills and some change out from under the mattress, which had jelly rolls and potato chips on it.

"This is it," he said. "$17.67."

He is about to lose the house, he said. He is three months behind on the payments. Robinson said he didn't know whether his father, a wealthy shirt manufacturer, will come to the rescue.

He opened a closet door and said: "I hit my peak at 23."

In the closet were a few scripts, several photographs, some reviews and posters.

"That's what's left of my career," Robinson said.

Omission Corrected

HOPKINSVILLE, Ky. (AP) — City officials bought an electronic speed-limiting device and started to erect speed limit signs. Someone discovered the city had no speed limit law, an omission the city council quickly corrected.

Woman Suffers Burns In Unusual Accident

MANSFIELD, Ohio (AP) — A Mansfield woman was critically burned Thursday night in an unusual accident just outside the city limits.

Hospital officials said Mary Schmidt, about 45, was in "very critical" condition with burns received in the accident.

Richland County Sheriff R. B. Bliss said a car driven by Lyman V. Franklin, 37, of Mansfield was on Ohio 13 when it skidded into a barricade.

Franklin told Bliss that an oil lantern crashed to the ground and started a fire. All four persons in the car got out but the Schmidt woman slipped on the oil and was engulfed in flames.

Two West Virginia Brothers Are Claimed

POINT PLEASANT, W. Va. (AP) — Two West Virginia brothers, both living in Ohio, died Thursday within a few hours and a few miles of each other.

Howard Graham, 57, of Akron, died at a relative's home here, en route to see his brother, Hobart, 59, a hospital patient at Gallipolis. Hobart died later of pneumonia.

Red-Leaning Critic Of U.S. Heads Cuban National Bank

HAVANA (AP) — Fidel Castro's revolutionary regime swung farther to the left today with Maj. Ernesto "Che" Guevara, Red-leaning critic of the United States, taking over as head of the Cuban National Bank.

Many businessmen expressed shock at the appointment of the 31-year-old Argentina-born soldier of fortune to a job that puts him in a position to dictate Cuba's foreign trade and possibly to oversee the nationalization of private banks.

The National Bank grants import-export permits, allots foreign exchange to finance imports and collects foreign exchange produced by exports.

Guevara is a staunch advocate of closer economic ties with Europe, especially the Communist bloc, and less dependence on trade with the United States, hitherto the mainstay of the Cuban economy.

As head of the National Bank he succeeds Felipe Pazos, a financial conservative, who becomes ambassador at large for Cuba's economic affairs with Europe.

Just prior to announcement of Guevara's appointment, the Cabinet announced an issue of popular low-price savings bonds which it said would be redeemed in 20 years at four times their purchase price. This was viewed as a government drive to compete with the private banks, and possibly the prelude to taking over those institutions, a step Castro himself advocated at his trial in 1953 after he led an unsuccessful revolt in eastern Cuba.

Ohio Couple 'Surprise' Holiday Dinner Guests

DELAND, Fla. (AP) — The policeman stopped the Columbus, Ohio, couple Thursday and took them away—to a Thanksgiving dinner.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Swank were "surprise" guests of Prof. Harland C. Merriam of Stetson University and his family.

The professor said he'd always wanted to pick a surprise dinner guest and Police Lt. Al Cosimini agreed to find some.

Merriam's family was just as surprised as the Swanks. All was a "wonderful idea."
